OUT-DOOR RELIEF.

3. Hence it appears that supervening on the decrease noticed in the last year's Report, there has been a further decrease in the number of workhouse inmates, accompanied by a small increase in the number receiving out-door relief.

4. The number of orphans and deserted children put out to nurse from the workhouses in Ireland has fluctuated very little during the two years 1874–5 and 1875–6, having been usually about 1,450 daily; but since the recent Act, 39 & 40 Vic., c. 38, extending the legal age from 10 years to 13 years, the number has sensibly increased, as was to be expected, and on the 10th February last was 1,566.

An Order was issued under seal, as required by the Act, to provide due security for the proper maintenance, the education, and supervision of children boarded out by the Guardians, and a copy of it will be found in the Appendix.*

5. The next table exhibits the fluctuation for twenty-one years past of the number on out-door relief, under 1st section of 10 Vic., c. 31.

6. We here subjoin a tabular statement showing, from month to month, the number of "night-lodgers," a term corresponding to "casuals" in England, for the past twelve months, in continuation of a similar table in last Report.

The total number of deaths in the workhouses in the fifty-two weeks comprised in the table has been 10,129. In the corresponding table in the last Annual Report the total number of deaths was 11,333; so that there has been a decrease of 1,204 deaths, as compared with the number last year.

Deaths by fever were 612, as against 703; by lung disease, 1,633, as against 2,045; and deaths by small-pox only 2, as against 41 in last year.

8. We now continue the series of recent statistics by repeating with one additional year the table showing the number of persons assisted by Boards of Guardians to emigrate, and the cost incurred for that purpose in each year, that is to say, for now twenty-seven years past ended on the 25th of March. The highest figure in this series was 4,386 in 1852; whereas we find in the last year only 200 persons assisted to emigrate.

12. We now proceed to the statistics arising out of the accounts of the unions for the year ended 29th September, 1876.

We deal in the first place with that part of the Union expenditure which relates exclusively to the relief of the poor, of which the following table affords an abstract for all Ireland, for the year ended 29th September, 1876, in comparison with that for the year which ended on the same date in 1875.

Year ended 29th September.	Net Annual Value.	Poor Rate lodged.	Poor Relief Expenditure during the Year.						Numbers relieved.
			In-Maintenance and Clothing.	Out-door Relief.	Cost of Relief in Blind and Deaf and Dumb Asylums and Extern Hospitals.	Salaries and Rations of Officers.	All other Expenses.	Total.	In Workhouse.	Out-door.	In Blind and Deaf and Dumb Asylums.	Total.

1875.	13,485,600	930,877	416,172	94,775	8,390	125,675	126,541	771,553	214,029	66,714	613	281,356

Decrease,	–	–	17,075	–	–	–	–	8,398	30,708	598	–	31,261

From the above table it will be seen that there has been a decrease of £17,075 in "in-maintenance and clothing," but an increase of £2,628 in "out-door relief," of £450 in cost of "deaf, dumb and blind," £3,048 in "salaries and rations of officers," and of £2,551 in "all other expenses," resulting in a net decrease of £8,398, while the decrease in the total number relieved has been 31,261.

13. The following is a statement of the Parliamentary Grant for Medical and Educational purposes, and for Salaries under the "Public Health (Ireland) Act, 1874," for the year ended 25th March, 1876:—

	Amount Claimed and Granted for the Year.
	£	s.	d.
Medical purposes,	69,586	5	10
Educational purposes,	8,915	8	4
Total for Medical and Educational purposes,	78,501	14	2
For Salaries under Public Health Act,	12,167	0	11
Total,	90,668	15	1

The total amount claimed and allowed under the Parliamentary Grant for Medical and Educational purposes for the year ended 25th March, 1876, namely, £78,501 14*s.* 2*d.*, is £206 15*s.* 10*d.* less than the amount for the previous year.

The amount for Salaries under Public Health (Ireland) Act appears for the first time.

Hence it will be seen that the total expenditure of poor-rates for all purposes, viz., relief, medical relief, burial grounds, registration of births, deaths, and marriages, sanitary measures, and expenses under Superannuation Acts was in 1875 £975,044, making a poundage of 1s. 5¼*d.* on the valuation. In 1876 the expenditure for all purposes was £1,045,505, being 1s. 6½*d.*, an increase of £70,461, which increase is composed of £59,482 payments under National School Teachers Act, a newly created source of expenditure, and of an increase of £11,070 under Cattle Plague Act, less by a net decrease of £91, on other accounts.

15. In the Session of Parliament of 1876 an important alteration was made in the law by which the electoral divisions of unions in Ireland are separately charged with the cost of maintenance of their respective paupers.

By this alteration the charge for in-door relief was limited to a certain amount of poundage on the electoral division, the residue being charged to the union at large, while the out-door relief continued to be charged on the electoral division in full as before.

The object of this change was to lessen the pressure on overcharged electoral divisions, chiefly town divisions, and in some instances that object has been attained in a considerable degree. For example, the New Ross Electoral Division, on which the entire expenditure charge for the year ended 29th September, 1876, was 4s. 1½*d.* in the pound, was in the account for the second half year relieved by the operation of the new law to the extent of 8¼*d.* in the pound (which on the whole year would be 1s. 4½*d.*), that amount being charged on the union at large, including the New Ross Electoral Division.

A few similar cases in which other electoral divisions have been materially relieved under the operation of the Poor Law Rating (Ireland) Act of 1876 are given below—

Name of Electoral Division.	Rate per pound of entire Expenditure for the whole Year ended 29th September, 1876.	Rate per pound credited to Electoral Division in the Half-year ended 29th September, 1876, under the "Poor Law Rating (Ireland) Act."	Rate per pound of which the Electoral Division would be relieved on the Expenditure of the whole Year, under the "Poor Law Rating (Ireland) Act."

Ennis, . . .	4 0¾	0 6¾	1 1½

An alteration was at the same time made in the law relating to the liability of electoral divisions to be charged for paupers newly admitted, the tendency of which was also to relieve the electoral divisions by making the union liable to a greater extent. These changes demanded a modification of the union accounts, for which a general Order under seal of the Local Government Board was necessary. The Order which was issued, together with the Circulars relating to it will be found in the Appendix.*

Medical Charities Act, and Vaccination Acts.

16. We next submit to your Grace the report of our proceedings under these Acts of Parliament for the year ended 30th September, 1876.

The subjoined table exhibits in the usual form the progress and fluctuations of the medical relief afforded under the Medical Charities Act for each year of the twelve years ended 30th September, 1876, in each province, and for the whole of Ireland.

The cases are distinguished, as usual, into those prescribed for at the Dispensaries, and those attended at the patients' houses, each class of cases occupying a separate column.

In Leinster there has been a decrease of 1,828 cases at the Dispensaries, and of 768 of those attended at their own houses.

And in Connaught there has been a decrease of 1,270 cases at the Dispensaries, and of 1,151 of those attended at their own houses.

The last three columns in the table show a decrease of 23,442 cases for all Ireland, including both classes, as compared with previous year; being 14,199 Dispensary cases, and 9,243 cases of persons attended at their own houses.

18. The following table contains a summary of the total number of cases of vaccination during the year ending 30th September, 1876, in each of the four provinces, the cases being classified under the headings, "under one year old when vaccinated," "above one year old," and "other persons."

Total Ireland, .	93,061	19,428	1,998	114,487

The following are the totals under each of the above headings for the previous year ended 30th September, 1875 :—

94,370 25,305 17,665 137,340

It will be observed that there is a decrease in the total number of cases vaccinated and re-vaccinated in all Ireland of 22,853 cases.

This decrease at first sight appears remarkable, but admits of explanation to a certain extent.

19. During the presence of small-pox in districts more or less panic exists amongst the inhabitants, who usually in large numbers avail themselves of the protective influence which the operation of vaccination affords, and thus vaccination and re-vaccination are had recourse to, but when as a consequence of its cessation the alarm caused by the immediate presence of the disease abates, re-vaccination is not had recourse to, and parents are not so prompt in bringing their children even for primary vaccination, and the result in general, if not invariably, is, that the year following an epidemic of small-pox there is a considerable reduction in the number of persons vaccinated.

The statistics of vaccination during the year ended the 30th September, 1875, when compared with the year ended the 30th September, 1876 (to which this report refers), show this very forcibly.

During 1876 the number of cases of small-pox recorded by the Medical Officers of all the Dispensary Districts is only 29, consequently there was no cause for unusual alarm, and vaccination was not so actively conducted, and re-vaccination was little resorted to.

During the year 1875, 881 cases of small-pox were reported, of which 140 occurred in Ulster, and 674 in Connaught, and it is in those two provinces that, as might be expected, there was such an augmentation in the number vaccinated during the prevalence of small-pox, and a corresponding falling off the next year, 1876, the disease having subsided.

During the prevalence of the disease in a severe form in Ulster and Connaught 21,426 persons, all upwards of one year old, were vaccinated; this number was composed of children not previously vaccinated and of cases of re-vaccination; and in 1,998 instances adults offered themselves anxious to undergo the operation, they being under no legal obligation to do so, and they also brought their children to be vaccinated, thus showing their confidence in the protective influence which they believed the operation would afford.

Still, having regard to the number of children annually born in Ireland, the number vaccinated when under one year of age cannot be regarded as quite satisfactory.

20. Last July small-pox prevailed in London, Liverpool, and Manchester, and the Local Government Board, apprehensive lest the disease might be introduced into Ireland by means of Irish paupers returned under removal warrant to their native country, addressed a letter to the Under Secretary for Ireland.

Communications were thereafter made to the Home Office, and lengthened correspondence ensued, which will be found in the Appendix,* together with letters addressed by the Local Government Board to the Guardians of the Dublin Unions suggesting precautionary measures.

No case of small-pox has as yet occurred amongst Irish paupers removed from England under warrant, but the disease has since the date of the above communication been introduced into Ireland from England.

A woman, named Elizabeth Coles, left Manchester, with her husband and child, on the 19th of July, 1876, and arrived in Dublin on the following day. She was visited by one of the Medical Officers of the South Dublin Dispensary District at 17, Upper Erne-street, on the 26th instant, and was found to be suffering from small-pox, and was then removed to Sir Patrick Dun's Hospital.

Since this date several other cases of small-pox have been introduced into various localities in this country from England, but owing to the prompt precautionary measures which were adopted, and to the efficient manner in which vaccination had hitherto been conducted in Ireland, the disease spread to a very limited extent.

However, the introduction of small-pox into this country from England shows how well-grounded was the apprehension on the part of the Local Government Board as to the possible extension of the disease to Ireland by the removal of paupers under warrant from localities in England in which the disease prevails.

21. Although the preceding statistics only refer to the year ended the 30th September, 1876, it may be of interest to observe that during the quarter ended the 31st December, 1876, only 9 cases of small-pox were attended by the Medical Officers of the Dispensary Districts.

Representation having been made in Parliament that the annual grant of £400 to the Irish National Cow-pock Institution was insufficient, the Government consented to increase the grant to

* Appendix B II., p. 69.

£1,200, provided that the supply of vaccine lymph, which hitherto had been paid for by the Poor Law Unions, be in future gratuitous, and that the institution be placed under the management of the Local Government Board.

The Governors of the Cow-pock Institution willingly assented to the proposal of the Government, and from the 1st of April, 1877, the collection and distribution of lymph will be directed and controlled by the Vaccine Department of the Local Government Board.

Under this arrangement a circular has already been issued in relation to the future supply of lymph to each Board of Guardians and to each Dispensary Committee, a copy of which will be found in the Appendix.*

On reference to this circular it will be found that a very material change has been made in the mode of collecting lymph, which heretofore has been collected by the Dublin Cow-pock Institution almost entirely on ivory points. It will hereafter be collected exclusively in capillary tubes, and submitted to microscopic examination and approval, as is done in England, before distribution, and proper registers will be kept by the collectors so as to enable the source of the supply to be ascertained in every case in which inquiry may be found to be necessary on the occasion of complaint or otherwise.

22. The number of deaths in workhouses from small-pox, and the number of cases of the disease treated by Dispensary Medical Officers for each of the last thirteen years are given in the following table:—

26. In addition to the above, petitions have been received from the Corporations of Dublin and Belfast, each praying for a provisional order, under the Artisans and Labourers' Dwellings Improvement Act, 1875, confirming an improvement scheme, which has been made under the provisions of that Act.

In each of these cases the necessary preliminary proceedings have been gone through, and the Board have instructed the Inspector of the District to hold the local inquiry required by the 6th section of the Act.

Commissioners, however, have not been elected, and no further proceedings have been taken. The necessary orders and directions have also been issued to the towns of Balbriggan and Midleton, in which a portion only of the provisions of the Towns Improvement Act were in force, approving the adoption of additional provisions.

28. By-laws have been submitted to and approved by us for the regulation of hackney carriages in the borough of Belfast, and in the town of Bray; for the regulation of common lodging houses other than those under the Common Lodging Houses Acts in the borough of Belfast, and for the regulation of common lodging houses under the Common Lodging Houses Acts in the following unions, namely, Cork, Balrothery, Kilmacthomas, Portumna, Downpatrick, Limerick, and Enniskymon, and also in the town of Ballymena.

Supplementary by-laws, providing for the inspection of common lodging houses by the Constabulary have also been adopted in the Unions of Balrothery, Kilmacthomas, Portumna, Downpatrick, Ballieborough, Navan, Belfast, and Athy, and also in the towns of Lisburn, Ballymena, Cork, and Belfast.

29. Orders have been made and gazetted, prohibiting further interments in the burial ground of Killeely, in the parish of Killeely, in the county of the city of Limerick, subject to certain exceptions; in the burial ground of Killester, in the parish of Killester, in the county of Dublin; in the burial ground in the demesne of Mitchelstown, in the county of Cork; in the burial ground in the demesne of Malahide Castle, in the parish of Malahide, in the county of Dublin, subject to certain exceptions and qualifications; and in the burial ground attached to the parish church of Killarney, in the parish of Killarney, subject to certain exceptions.

We have also issued licenses under the 10th section of the Burial Grounds Act in certain individual cases authorizing, where the circumstances seemed to warrant it, interments in burial grounds which had been ordered to be closed. These exceptional cases occurred in relation to the burial grounds of Whitechurch, Cruagh, Monkstown, Old Killiney, and Templeogue, in the county of Dublin; St. Mark's, in the city of Dublin; St. Mary Shandon, in the borough of Cork; and Killeely, in the county of the city of Limerick.

Public Health Act.

30. Exceptional cases of neglect and indifference on the part of local sanitary authorities have created in some quarters an unfavourable impression as to the shortcomings generally of the law and its administration, which are not warranted by the facts.

With regard to such cases it may be well to point out that in a measure now before Parliament it is proposed to give the Local Government Board for Ireland more power than it now possesses of providing effectual security for the general adoption of the provisions of the sanitary law. It must at the same time be observed that it could not have been reasonably expected that a measure like the "Public Health (Ireland), Act," would at once work a complete reform of the sanitary conditions throughout the whole country, as it was obvious that some localities would adopt their sanitary reforms more readily and with more promptitude than others, and that a complete general amelioration in these matters could only be a question of time.*

31. We mentioned with satisfaction in our last Report that the sanitary authorities had for the most part been active in the discharge of their duties, and that no less than 79 orders fixing the area of charge for water supply or for sewerage, or both, had been issued in the course of the year, involving upwards of 1,200 townlands situate in 62 different unions, a complete and detailed account thereof being given in the Appendix. We have now to add that during the succeeding year 89 similar orders have been issued affecting 2,229 townlands situate in 60 different unions for similar purposes, the details of which will be found in the Appendix to the present Report.†

32. The following is supplementary to a similar table in paragraph 33 of our last annual Report:—

Total, . .	£41,085

The "Public Health (Ireland), Act," having been passed in 1874, there have been only two complete financial years ended 31st March last.

In the first complete year we recommended, as stated in table at paragraph 33 of last Report, loans to the extent of £37,584 for water supply and sewerage; and, as stated in present table, loans to the amount of £41,085 for the same purposes, whereof no less than £28,800 was for water supply from rural sanitary districts alone. In addition to these loans it must be observed that, referring to paragraph 14, there will be found in the accounts of the current expenditure of poor rates, that is to say, in the accounts of the Rural Sanitary Authorities for 1875-6, a sum, £39,676, in comparison with £32,934 in the preceding year, disbursed partly in the minor operations of sewerage and water supply, and in the removal of nuisances, and partly in additions to medical salaries for sanitary duties.

33. A glance at the area of charge tables in the Appendix and at the facts here stated will be sufficient to show that in the short space of time which has elapsed since the passing of the "Public Health Act (Ireland), 1874," great and satisfactory progress has been made by sanitary authorities in Ireland in applying expenditure to the two important objects of sanitation, namely, the provision of pure air and pure water for both the urban and rural population of the country.

In reference to future loans for like purposes, a statement will be found in the Appendix,* showing, for the information of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, the probable amount of the loans which are likely to be asked for by sanitary authorities in Ireland in the course of the financial year. A previous report to the same effect gave a total of £81,633, and the one just recently presented gives a total of £181,080, including a portion of the first sum. These facts and the preceding statements are sufficient guarantees that the "Public Health (Ireland), Act, 1874," has not been inoperative hitherto, and is not likely to become so.

34. The Local Government Board in England having issued a further report on the sewerage of towns in that country, we thought it our duty to place before the sanitary authorities in Ireland, as well as we were enabled to do, the further experiences in England, and for that purpose, on the 20th March, 1877, we issued a circular consecutive on the circular 9th August, 1875, mentioned in paragraph 34 of the last annual report.†

Departmental Arrangements.

35. The death of Mr. Cruise, Auditor of Accounts, after a long illness, whereby an arrear of audits of union, lunatic asylum, and municipal accounts, had accumulated, made it necessary for us not only to appoint a successor to Mr. Cruise, but to ask permission from the Lords Commissioners of the Treasury to appoint at the same time an additional temporary Auditor for one year, in order to bring up the arrear, which permission was granted. The permanent Auditor appointed in succession to the late Auditor was Mr. Jephson, a Clerk in our Second Class of Clerks, and the temporary appointment was given to Mr. M'Hugh, a First Class Clerk in charge of the Registry Department. We may here mention, with satisfaction, that our staff of auditors, whose functions are daily becoming more extensive and of more importance to the public, consists of eight, of which number no less than seven have been promoted from the department.

ORDERS, CIRCULARS OF INSTRUCTIONS, AND CORRESPONDENCE UNDER THE POOR LAW ACTS.

I.—ORDERS.

No. 1.—General Order assessing the amount payable as Results Fees in the Unions which have become contributory for the year ending 31st March, 1877, under the National School Teachers Act, 1875.

To the Guardians of the Poor of the several Unions named in the Schedule to this Order; to the Treasurer of each of such Unions; and to all Persons whom it may concern.

Whereas we, the Local Government Board for Ireland, have received from the Commissioners of National Education an estimate for the year ending the 31st day of March, 1877, of the full amount payable as results fees in respect of pupils attending the National schools in each of the unions which have become contributory unions, under an Act passed in the thirty-ninth year of the reign of Her present Majesty, Queen Victoria, entitled, "An Act to provide for additional Payments to Teachers of National Schools in Ireland:"

And whereas the unions which have become contributory under the said Act are those of which the names are placed in the first column of the schedule hereto:

And whereas by the said Act it is enacted that the Commissioners of National Education shall require the Local Government Board in every year to provide a sum equal to one-third of such full amount payable as results fees as aforesaid, and that the said Local Government Board shall thereafter provide such sum in the manner by the said Act prescribed; and the Local Government Board have received from the Secretaries of the Commissioners of National Education a requisition to provide, in the year 1876, a sum equal to one-third of such full amount aforesaid:

And whereas it is by the said Act further enacted—"Upon the receipt of every such estimate, the Local Government Board shall, by an order under their seal, assess upon each contributory union a sum equal to one-third of the full amount payable as results fees in respect of pupils attending the National schools in such contributory union, and shall transmit a copy of such order to the guardians and likewise to the treasurer of such contributory union, stating the amount so assessed on such contributory union:"

And it is further enacted that "forthwith on the receipt of such order by the treasurer of any contributory union he shall, out of the funds then lying in his hands to the credit of the guardians of such union, or if there shall be then no sufficient assets, out of the moneys next received by him and placed to the credit of such guardians, pay over the amount so assessed on such contributory union to the Bank of Ireland, to be there placed to the credit of the Commissioners of Education to a separate account, to be entitled 'The Results Fees Account;' and that the guardians of such contributory union shall, in their account with the electoral divisions of such contributory union, debit each electoral division with its proportion of the said amount according to the net annual value for the time being of the property rateable to the rates for the relief of the destitute poor in each such division:"

And whereas it is provided by the said Act that if in any financial year the sum provided by the Local Government Board in respect of any contributory union exceeds the amount required for the purposes of the Act in such year in respect of such contributory union, such overplus shall be carried to the credit of the next following financial year, and in such last mentioned year only such sum shall be raised by assessment on such contributory union as shall be necessary in addition thereto to make up the sum which would in the ordinary course under the said Act be required to be provided by the Local Government Board in respect of such contributory union in such next following year:

And whereas we have received from the Commissioners of National Education a statement of the surplus of the assessment made by an order under our seal, bearing date the 6th day of November, 1875, as set forth in the fourth column of the schedule hereto:

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the powers vested in us by the said Act, we do hereby assess upon each of the unions named in the first column of the schedule hereto the amount set opposite to its name in the fifth column, such sum being equal to one-third of such full amount payable as results fees as aforesaid by such union, as set forth in the second column of the said schedule, less the amount of surplus of the assessment for the year 1875 as set forth in the fourth column.

Abercorn.

I, James, Duke of Abercorn, Lord Lieutenant-General and General Governor of Ireland, do approve this Order.

By Command of His Grace,
T. H. Burke.

No. 2. General Order assessing on the several Unions in Ireland the sum required for the purposes of the Cattle Plague Acts.

To the Guardians of the Poor of the several Unions named in the Schedule hereunto annexed; to the Treasurer of each of such Unions; and to all Persons whom it may concern:

Whereas by an Act passed in the Twenty-ninth year of the Reign of Her present Majesty, Queen Victoria, entitled "An Act to amend the Law relating to Contagious Diseases amongst Cattle and other Animals in Ireland," it is among other things enacted that on receipt of the certificate of the Chief Secretary or Under Secretary of the Lord Lieutenant to the effect that a sum equivalent to a certain poundage, to be specified in said certificate, on the net annual value of the property rateable to the poor in all the unions in Ireland, is required for the purpose of providing a fund for defraying the expenses of carrying the said Act into execution, and for compensating the owners of cattle, the slaughter of which may be compelled by authority, it shall be lawful for the Commissioners for administering the Laws for Relief of the Poor in Ireland, to assess such sum by an Order under their Seal, upon the several unions, in proportion to the net annual value of the rateable property therein, according to the valuation in force for the time being; and the said Commissioners shall make such Order, and shall transmit to the Board of Guardians and to the Treasurer of each Union a copy thereof, stating the amount so assessed on such union; provided that no such Certificate or Order shall authorize the assessment of more than one halfpenny in the pound on the net annual value of the rateable property as aforesaid:

And whereas by said Act it is further enacted that forthwith on receipt of such Order, the Treasurer of the Union shall, out of the funds then lying in his hands to the credit of the Guardians, or, if there shall be then no sufficient assets, out of the moneys next received by him, and placed to the credit of the Guardians, pay over the amount so assessed on the union to the Bank of Ireland, to be there placed to a separate account, to be entitled "The Cattle Plague Account;" and the Guardians of the Union shall in their account with the electoral divisions of the union debit each electoral division with its proportion of the said sum, according to the net annual value for the time being of the rateable property situate in each such division:

And whereas the purposes to which said moneys might be applied under the authority of the said Act were extended and the said Act was amended by "The Cattle Disease (Ireland) Amendment Act, 1870:"

And whereas under the authority and for the purposes of the first recited Act a certain sum of money was raised, but as there was only occasion to expend for the said purposes a part of such sum, the balance was paid over to the Treasurers of the said Unions respectively as provided by the said Act;

And whereas the said Acts were amended by "The Cattle Disease (Ireland) Acts Amendment Act, 1874:"

And whereas by "The Local Government Board (Ireland) Act, 1872," the powers of the Commissioners for administering the Laws for the Relief of the Poor in Ireland became vested in the Local Government Board for Ireland:

And whereas We, the Local Government Board for Ireland, on receipt of a Certificate of the Under Secretary of the Lord Lieutenant, did by an Order under our Seal, bearing date the 5th day of August, 1874, assess upon the several unions in Ireland a further sum for the purpose of defraying the expenses of carrying the said recited Acts into execution, and for the other purposes in the said Acts mentioned, and thereby authorized:

And whereas a Certificate under the hand of the Under Secretary of the Lord Lieutenant, bearing date the Third day of May, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Seventy-six, has been received by us, the Local Government Board for Ireland, in which it is certified that a sum of Fourteen Thousand and Forty-seven Pounds and Ten Shillings sterling, being equivalent to a rating of one farthing in the pound on the net annual value of the property rateable to the poor in all the unions in Ireland, is required for the purpose of defraying the expenses of the carrying the said recited Acts into execution, and for the other purposes in the said Acts mentioned:

Now, therefore, in pursuance of the provisions of the said Acts, we do hereby assess the said sum of Fourteen Thousand and Forty-seven Pounds and Ten Shillings upon the several unions in Ireland, in proportion to the net annual value of the property in each union rateable to the relief of the poor, according to the valuation thereof now in force as follows; that is to say, we assess upon each union the amount set opposite to its name in the Schedule hereunto annexed.

III.—To bring the Maintenance and Clothing to charge against the several Electoral Divisions in due proportions, according to the provisions of the Act, in each half-year.

Each electoral division shall be debited with the full amount chargeable to it for the maintenance and clothing of its own paupers, and each of the electoral divisions in which the poundage rate as above ascertained (Part II., sec. 1) is in excess of the poundage chargeable to it according to the 5th section of the Act shall be credited with the amount of such excess. The union at large shall be debited in the account appropriated to maintenance and clothing of union paupers, with the aggregate of the amount so credited, and then all the electoral divisions shall be charged with their proportion, according to net annual value, of the total sum charged in that account—that is to say, with the amount charged directly for union paupers, and also with the amount charged as being credited to electoral divisions on account of excess of poundage rate over the limit prescribed by the Act.

No. 4.—Regulations relating to the Relief of Orphan and Deserted Children out of the Workhouse issued in pursuance of the Act, 39 & 40 Vic., c. 38.

To the Guardians of each Poor Law Union named in the Schedule to this Order; and to all others whom it may concern:

In pursuance of an Act passed in the Fortieth year of Her present Majesty, intituled "An Act to extend the limits of age up to which, with the assent of Boards of Guardians, Orphan and Deserted Pauper Children may be supported out of Workhouses in Ireland," we, the Local Government Board for Ireland, do hereby make the following order for the purpose of giving effect to the provisions of the said Act:

I.—Contract and Conditions thereof.

Every person with whom any child shall be placed out at nurse, or boarded out under the said Act, shall first sign a contract with the Board of Guardians binding himself, or herself, as the case may be, to observe the following conditions in respect to such child so long as it shall continue at nurse or be boarded out with such person:

1. The child shall be properly and sufficiently nursed or boarded, and shall be suitably lodged and clothed, and kept clean in its person by being washed once at least every day, and at all times when necessary.
2. The child shall, when of sufficient age to attend school, be made to attend the nearest National School, or other public school, and to remain there during the ordinary school hours; and a certificate of such attendance signed by the teacher, and showing the days of absence, shall be given to the Relieving Officer each month; provided that if the school be not a National School the child shall be examined annually by an Inspector of the Commissioners of National Education at a convenient time and place, and the result of the examination reported to the Board of Guardians.
3. The child shall, when of sufficient age, be made to attend divine worship at the place of worship frequented by the foster-parent and his or her family.
4. If the child shall at any time be suffering from illness or accident medical relief shall be obtained for it in the way provided by law, at or from the dispensary of the district, and if the medical officer shall advise its removal to hospital it shall be allowed to be so removed by the foster-parent.
5. The child shall be presented for inspection and examination at all times when required to be so by the Relieving Officer or any person having authority from the Board of Guardians to examine and inspect it.
6. The child shall be restored to the custody of the Board of Guardians and its Officers, at any time when the foster-parent shall be required by the Board so to restore it.

The form of Contract shall contain a blank space for inserting the precise terms of monthly payment to the foster-parent, excluding the cost of new clothing or repairs thereof and of School fees for the child's education, which shall be separately provided by the Board, and the Contract shall be signed on behalf of the Guardians by the Chairman of the day.

II.—Foster Parent.

Previously to the signing of the Contract the proposed foster-parent shall produce a recommendation signed by some Clergyman, Magistrate

Guardian of a Union, or Member of a Dispensary Committee, or the Medical Officer thereof, residing in his or her neighbourhood, who may be willing to answer for his or her good conduct and respectability.

Previously to the signing of the Contract the Board of Guardians shall have satisfied themselves that the dwelling of the proposed foster-parent is in a healthy situation, and that the family have the means, at all times, of supplying themselves with pure and wholesome drinking water, and that there is a National School, or other public school, situate at a convenient distance from the dwelling.

III.—Number of Children—Sanitary Conditions.

The number of the children who may be boarded out with one and the same foster parent shall be determined by the Board of Guardians from time to time in each case: and no child shall be permitted to continue with any foster parent who shall exceed the number so fixed; or who shall keep any pig, cow, donkey, or other such animal within the dwelling-house, or who shall keep any manure-pit or accumulation of filth in dangerous proximity to the dwelling.

IV.—Supervision.

The Board of Guardians shall provide for the supervision of all children placed at nurse or boarded out by them by assigning that duty in each case to some one Relieving Officer, who shall discharge the same in accordance with the following Regulations:—

1. To see the child safely given over in charge to the person whom the Guardians shall have selected for the purpose.
2. To pay, by advance or otherwise, as the Guardians shall direct, but not less often than by monthly payments, the sums granted from time to time by the Guardians for the maintenance of the child, from the funds placed at his disposal by them for that purpose.
3. To cause such child, if not already successfully vaccinated, to be vaccinated by the Medical Officer of the Dispensary District in which the place of residence shall be situate.
4. To visit such child once at least in every month, and also when any special occasion shall arise for so visiting it, and to report in writing immediately thereafter to the Board of Guardians on its health, cleanliness, and treatment together with such other particulars as the Guardians shall at any time require.
5. In the event of the death of such child, to take steps for burying it, according to the directions of the Board of Guardians applicable generally to such cases.

V.—Charging Expenses.

And, as regards the charging of the expenses incurred by the Guardians in relieving such child, we do order and declare as follows:—

1. The name of the child, together with the other particulars required by the Union Regulations shall, on its discharge from the Workhouse, be placed on the out-door relief register, and on the out-door relief list; and the sums expended in the relief of all such cases shall be entered like other sums expended in out-relief, in the Relieving Officer's weekly relief and expenditure book.
2. The expenses of relieving such child, and of its burial in case of death, shall be charged to some electoral division, or to the Union at large, as the case may be, under the head of out-door relief, and entered in the union accounts accordingly; and in the case of burial service having been performed the expense thereof shall be charged and brought to account in like manner.

VI.—Application of Regulations.

Numbers III., IV., and V. of the above regulations shall be deemed to apply to children put out to nurse before the passing of the said Act under the provisions of the Acts previously in force in Ireland for putting out to nurse orphans and deserted children or before the issuing of this Order; and in the event of any of such children returning to the Workhouse and being again boarded out with the same or other foster-parents, the foster-parent shall in each such case contract as is provided in the Regulations numbered I. and II. respectively; and in regard to children not coming back to the Workhouse, but remaining boarded out, the Board of Guardians shall require each foster-parent to observe the conditions contained in Regulations I. and II., and in every case of their not consenting to do so, or making default therein, the child shall be restored to the custody of the Guardians.

No. 6.—Boarding Out Orphan and Deserted Children.

Local Government Board, Dublin,
Sir, 16th August, 1876.

The Local Government Board for Ireland desire to acquaint you, for the information of the Board of Guardians, that the Act extending the limits of age up to which Orphan and Deserted Pauper Children may be supported out of the Workhouse received the Royal Assent on the 11th instant.

The 1st section repeals the Act (32 & 33 Vic., c. 25) under which orphan and deserted children were hitherto placed out at nurse; the 2nd section authorizes the Board of Guardians to provide for the relief of such children by placing them out at nurse, or boarding them out up to the age of thirteen years; and the 3rd section authorizes the Local Government Board to make orders with respect to the form of Contract —the conditions upon which children shall be placed out at nurse or boarded out; the number of children to be lodged in each house and with each person; the attendance of children at Divine worship and at school; and the supervision of the children.

The Board have the subject of these Regulations under consideration, but meantime the Guardians will observe that under the 2nd section of the Act they have the following powers:—

* See Order, p. 38.

1. They may provide for the relief of any orphan or deserted child out of the Workhouse by placing such child out at nurse or boarding it out.
2. They may at any time withdraw such child from the care of the person with whom it has been placed out at nurse or boarded out.

Subject, however, to the following restrictions :—

1. No child is to be placed out with any person who does not profess the same religion as that in which the child has been registered.
2. No child is to continue to be so relieved after the age of thirteen years.

By order of the Board,

B. Banks, Secretary.

To the Clerk of each Union.

No. 7.—Boarding Out Pauper Children.

Local Government Board, Dublin,
27th November, 1876.

Sir,

The accompanying Order of the Local Government Board for Ireland has been made under the 3rd section of the Act passed in the last session of Parliament, entitled "An Act to extend the limits of age up to which, with the assent of Boards of Guardians, Orphan and Deserted Pauper Children may be supported out of Workhouses in Ireland."*

Out-door relief to the class in question embraces now the boarding out system for some time past known in England, and is now extended in Ireland from children of ten to children of thirteen years of age.

The Irish system previously existing had reference, in its origin, to the health of nurse children only; but, as since altered, it embraces the entire period of educational and industrial training.

The law is permissive only; and those Boards of Guardians which may adopt it in particular cases will find that in framing the present Rules the Local Government Board for Ireland has endeavoured to provide for the children placed out at nurse, or boarded out, as much security as possible for their being fed, clothed, and lodged in a wholesome manner, and being cared for, educated, and trained in the best way surrounding circumstances may admit of in each case. The Act itself, of which a copy is enclosed, provides that the foster parent shall be of the same religion as that in which the child has been registered.

The recommendation of suitable foster parents by persons residing in their locality and able to judge of their fitness is provided for in the Order.

The most valuable, perhaps, of such recommendations will be a certificate from the Medical Officer of the Dispensary District in which the proposed foster parent resides; and it would be well to require such a testimony in every instance, in addition to other recommendations, that officer being likely to be best acquainted with the sanitary conditions of the residences of the lower classes in his own district.

In reference to the provision of the Order (Regulation I), which relates to the attendance of the child at school, the Board have to observe that although this Regulation admits of the child being sent to a public school other than a National School, schools under the National Board are those which should generally be selected for the education of orphan and deserted children, except where, on account of distance or other sufficient reason, the Guardians may consider some other school more suitable to the special circumstances of any particular case ; and it will be observed that in such cases provision will be made for an annual examination of the child by an Inspector of the Commissioners of National Education.

A Form of Contract has been prepared in accordance with the terms of the Regulations contained in the Order, and is forwarded herewith.

By order of the Board,

B. Banks, Secretary.

To the Clerk of each Union.

Form of Contract referred to in foregoing Circular.

Contract made this day of , 187 , between the Board of Guardians of the Union, of the one part, and(a) , of the other part.

I, the said(a) , do hereby accept the charge of(b) , now aged about years ; and in consideration of the sum of(c) per month, to be paid to me by the said Board of Guardians, as hereinafter mentioned, do hereby contract and agree to bring up the said child, and to endeavour to train it in habits of truthfulness, obedience, personal cleanliness, and industry, as well as in suitable domestic and outdoor work. And I hereby bind myself to observe all the conditions in respect to the said child which are set forth in the General Order of the Local Government Board for Ireland, dated the 20th day of November, 1876, as follows :—

1. The child shall be properly and sufficiently nursed or boarded, and shall be suitably lodged and clothed, and kept clean in its person by being washed once at least every day, and at all times when necessary.
2. The child shall, when of sufficient age to attend school, be made to attend the nearest National School or other public school as may be directed by the Board of Guardians, and to remain there during the ordinary school hours ; and a certificate of such attendance signed by the teacher, and showing the days of absence, shall be given to the relieving officer each month ; and in case of the school not being a National School, the child shall be presented for examination by the Inspector of the Commissioners of National Education at such times and places as may be appointed.
3. The child shall, when of sufficient age, be made to attend Divine worship at the place of worship frequented by the foster-parent and his or her family.
4. If the child shall at any time be suffering from illness or accident, medical relief shall be obtained for it in the way provided by law, at or from the dispensary of the district, and if the Medical Officer shall advise its removal to hospital it shall be allowed to be so removed by the foster-parent.
5. The child shall be presented for inspection and examination at all times when required to be so by the relieving officer or any person having authority from the Board of Guardians to examine and inspect it.
6. The child shall be restored to the custody of the Board of Guardians and its officers, at any time when the foster-parent shall be required by the Board so to restore it.

And the said Board of Guardians do hereby covenant and agree with the said(a) , that so long as the said child shall continue in his (or her) charge, and shall not have attained the age of thirteen years, they, the said Guardians, will pay or cause to be paid to the said(a) , the sum of(c) on the(d) day of each calendar month, and a proportionate part of such monthly payment in the event of the child being removed from the charge of the said , in the interval between any of the said days of payment.

(a) Insert name and address of foster parent. (b) Insert name of child.
(c) Insert amount. (d) Insert "first," "second," or "third," &c., as may be agreed.

And the said Board of Guardians hereby promise and agree that the said child shall from time to time be provided with suitable and sufficient clothing, and that due provision shall be made for the repair thereof, and also for the payment of any school fees which may become due and payable in respect of the child's attendance at any National School and education thereat.

In pursuance of the Resolution of the Guardians assigning the child to , as its foster-parent, I the Chairman presiding at the meeting of the Board on the day of the date hereof, have affixed my signature to this Contract, and the said has likewise hereunto set his (or her) hand.

No. 8.—Poor Law Rating (Ireland) Act, 1876.

Local Government Board, Dublin,
Sir, 17th August, 1876.

The Local Government Board for Ireland desire to state, for the information of the Board of Guardians, that "The Poor Law Rating (Ireland) Act, 1876," received the Royal Assent on the 11th instant.

This Act alters the law of chargeability and rating in three particulars, namely:—

(1.) In regard to the period of residence in an Electoral Division which is to determine the chargeability to that division.

(2.) In regard to the chargeability of destitute poor deaf and dumb or blind persons in the workhouse, or in deaf and dumb or blind asylums.

(3.) In regard to the charge to the several Electoral Divisions in respect of indoor relief expenses.

1. With reference to residence, the 1st sec. of the 25 and 26 Vic., c. 83, which required a residence of two years out of the preceding five years in an Electoral Division in order to charge the relief to that Electoral Division is repealed, and a residence of four years out of the preceding five years is now required; and in regard to those cases where persons chargeable to Electoral Divisions cease to be relieved, and thereafter again begin to receive relief, the period within which the chargeability is to be the same as before is reduced from twelve months to six months.

2. Relief to destitute poor deaf and dumb, or blind persons in the workhouse, or in deaf and dumb or blind asylums (including the cost of conveyance to such asylums), is made chargeable to the whole Union.

3. With reference to indoor relief expenses, the following rules are to be observed by the Guardians in making any future rate for the purpose of defraying expenses incurred by them in the execution of the Poor Law Acts:—

(a) Where the total amount of such expenses in all the Electoral Divisions of the Union is not more than would be raised by a poundage rate of 4*d.* in the pound on the entire Union, no Electoral Division is to be charged more than 6*d.* in the pound.

(b) Where the total amount of such expenses on all the Electoral Divisions of the Union is more than would be raised by a poundage rate of 4*d.* in the pound on the entire Union, no Electoral Division is to be charged more than one and a half times the amount which would be raised on such Electoral Division by such average poundage.

(c) The deficiency which will be caused by reducing the charge on those Electoral Divisions in which the poundage required to defray the entire charge would exceed 4*d.* or would exceed the average poundage, as the case may be, is to be charged against the whole Union.

Where a rate has not yet been made to meet the expenditure for the ensuing year, it will obviously be necessary to accommodate the form of estimate heretofore in use to the altered state of the law.

The Local Government Board have such form of estimate at present under consideration, and will furnish the same to the Board of Guardians, together with a copy of the Act, as soon as copies are at their disposal.

By order of the Board,

B. Banks, Secretary.

To the Clerk of each Union.

No. 9.—Poor Law Rating (Ireland) Act, 1876.

Local Government Board, Dublin,
22nd August, 1876.

Sir,

Referring to their Circular Letter of the 17th instant, the Local Government Board for Ireland forward herewith for the use of the Guardians a copy of the Poor Law Rating (Ireland) Act, 1876.

The Guardians will observe that the important changes of the law contained in sections 3 and 4 of this Act take effect immediately; and the Clerk and Master of the Workhouse are hereby directed to regulate the charges on Electoral Divisions accordingly for the remainder of the current half-year which is unexpired.

The Guardians in making any new rate will have their estimates prepared by the Clerk as usual, but the resulting poundage rate on each Electoral Division must be modified by having regard to the provisions of the 5th section of the Act.

A form of estimate is herewith sent, in which an additional column has been provided for this purpose.

It is important also to observe that the provisions of the 5th section must be attended to in making up the accounts for the half-year ending on the 29th September, 1876.

By order of the Board,

B. Banks, Secretary.

To the Clerk of each Union.

No. 11.—POOR LAW RATING (IRELAND) ACT, 1876.

Local Government Board, Dublin,
14th October, 1876.

SIR,

Referring to the last paragraph of their Circular Letter of the 29th ult., relating to the Poor Law Union Rating (Ireland) Act, 1876, the Local Government Board for Ireland now forward to you a copy of a Paper which has been prepared for the purpose of showing the mode in which the provisions of the 5th sec. of the Act may be carried into effect, in pursuance of the General Order of the 19th September last, in the Union accounts.

By order of the Board,

B. BANKS, Secretary.

To the Clerk of each Union.

ENCLOSURE in foregoing CIRCULAR.

Poor Law Rating (Ireland) Act, 1876.

EXPLANATORY MEMORANDUM as to the mode in which the Provisions of the Fifth Section of the Act may be carried into effect in the UNION ACCOUNTS.

The following Memorandum has been prepared for the purpose of exemplifying the mode of carrying into effect, in the books and accounts of the Union, the provisions of "The Poor Law Rating (Ireland) Act, 1876," so that each Electoral Division shall be charged with its proper proportion of the indoor relief expenses in accordance with the 5th section of that Act.

By the 44th section of the original Poor Relief Act (1 & 2 Vic., c. 56), recited in the Poor Law Rating (Ireland) Act, 1876, the Guardians are required to cause their accounts to be made up at the end of each half year, and to charge against each Electoral Division at the end of such period the proportion of indoor relief expenses which should appear to have been incurred in respect of persons chargeable to such Electoral Division; and by the 62nd section of the same Act it is provided that in making every rate, due regard shall be had to the amount which shall have been so ascertained to be chargeable upon any Electoral Division in respect of its proportion of the indoor relief expenses during the period to which the last account of such expenses shall extend.

These provisions are modified by the recent Act to the following extent:—

1. When the average poundage rate on the whole Union for indoor relief expenses in the half-year is 4*d.*, or less than 4*d.*, no Electoral Division is to be charged more than 6*d.* in the pound.
2. When the average poundage rate on the whole Union for indoor relief expenses in the half-year exceeds 4*d.*, no Electoral Division is to be charged more than one and a half times such average poundage rate—e.g., if the average poundage rate be 6*d.*, no Electoral Division is to be charged more than 9*d.* in the pound.
3. The deficiency caused by these limitations of the charge against certain Electoral Divisions is to be borne by the whole Union.

At the close of each half-year, therefore, it will be necessary to ascertain:—

1. The total amount of the in-maintenance charges on the entire Union.
2. The poundage of such charges on the net annual value of the whole Union.
3. The total amount which would be chargeable to each Electoral Division in respect of its own paupers according to the collective number of days' relief, and in respect of its proportion of paupers charged to the Union at large, according to net annual value.
4. The poundage of the total amount so chargeable to each Electoral Division calculated upon the net annual value of the division.
5. For those Electoral Divisions, if any, which are found by the last operation to be chargeable with a larger proportion of the indoor relief expenses than the proportion authorized by the Act, the amount of the excess must be ascertained—e.g., if the average poundage be 4*d.*, or less than 4*d.*, and the charge to an Electoral Division be 7*d.*, the amount of the excess of this last-mentioned poundage over 6*d.*, that is, the amount which 1*d.* in the pound on the valuation of the Electoral Division will produce, must be ascertained. In like manner, if the average poundage be 6*d.*, and the charge to an Electoral Division be more than one and a half times 6*d.*, or more than 9*d.*, the amount which the excess of poundage over 9*d.* will produce must be ascertained.
6. The total amount of these excesses of poundage on all the Electoral Divisions which are chargeable with a larger proportion of indoor relief expenses than the proportion limited by the Act being thus ascertained, that amount is to be charged to the Union at large, and credited to the Electoral Division or Electoral Divisions in which the excess occurs.

The following statement shows these operations worked out in tabular form; the figures are, of course, assumed, and on these figures the average poundage rate is less than 4*d.*, and, consequently, reductions are only made in those divisions where the poundage is more than 6*d.*, but the process would be the same if the average poundage were more than 4*d.*, the reduction being in that case made on Electoral Divisions only in which the poundage was more than half as much again as the average poundage—thus, if the average poundage were 6*d.*, those Electoral Divisions only which were liable to a poundage of more than 9*d.* would be entitled to reduction, or if it were 8*d.*, those Electoral Divisions only which were liable to a poundage of more than 1*s.* would participate in the reduction.

24th March, 1877.

Sir,

The Local Government Board for Ireland have had their attention drawn to the provisions of the Pharmacy Act (Ireland), 1875, which provides for the examination and registration of persons desirous of being registered as pharmaceutical chemists or chemists and druggists, and enables persons so registered to dispense or compound medical prescriptions; and the Board have directed that the annexed extracts from the Act (sections 30, 33, and 34) be forwarded to you for the information of the Board of Guardians.

Section 30 enables persons duly registered under the Act to dispense or compound medical prescriptions; section 33 provides that registration

CIRCULARS OF INSTRUCTION, AND CORRESPONDENCE UNDER THE MEDICAL CHARITIES ACT AND THE VACCINATION ACTS.

I.—CIRCULARS.

No. 1.—ANNUAL APPOINTMENT of DISPENSARY COMMITTEES and WARDENS.

Local Government Board, Dublin,
7th April, 1877.

SIR,

The Local Government Board for Ireland desire to call your attention to the circular of the Poor Law Commissioners dated the 21st of March, 1862, relating to the annual appointment of dispensary committees and wardens, and to the extracts from previous circulars appended thereto; and they request that you will take the necessary steps, as pointed out in the circular referred to, to place before the Board of Guardians, after the annual election, a correct list of the members of the Board entitled to be members of the respective dispensary committees in the union.

This ought to be done by distinct resolution and recorded on the minutes.

As soon as the committee shall have been completed for any dispensary district, the guardians should fix a day for the first meeting of such committee, for the special purpose of appointing their honorary officers for the current year, in accordance with articles 6 and 7 of the Dispensary Regulations, and you should give notice thereof to each member of the dispensary committee, in accordance with articles 11 and 13 of the Dispensary Regulations.

A form for the return of officers of the several dispensary committees in the union will be forwarded to you in due course.

By order of the Board,

B. Banks, Secretary.

To the Clerk of the Board of Guardians
of each Union.

No. 2.—Return of Officers of Dispensary Committees.

Local Government Board, Dublin,
Sir, 12th April, 1877.

With reference to their circular of the 7th instant, relating to the annual appointment of dispensary committees and wardens, the Local Government Board for Ireland enclose herewith a form for the return of officers of the several dispensary committees in the union.

In the circular above referred to the Board recommended that as soon as the committee should have been completed for any dispensary district, the guardians should fix a day for the first meeting of such committee, for the special purpose of appointing their honorary officers for the current year, in accordance with the dispensary regulations, and that you should give notice thereof to each member of the dispensary committee, in accordance with those regulations; and if this recommendation has not been acted upon in the case of any dispensary district in the union, the Board request that you will bring the matter again under the notice of the Board of Guardians.

Articles 6 and 7 of the Dispensary Regulations of 29th November, 1869, relate to the appointment of the honorary officers, and articles 11 and 13 relate to the notice of meeting.

The Board enclose three copies of the form, so as to enable you to make the return in duplicate to this Office, and to retain a copy for the use of the Board; and they request that you will procure the necessary information with the least practicable delay, and then forward your return to this Office.

By order of the Board,

B. Banks, Secretary.

To the Clerk of the Board of Guardians
of each Union.

No. 3.—Supply of Vaccine Lymph.

Local Government Board, Dublin,
Sir, 14th November, 1876.

The Local Government Board for Ireland desire to acquaint you, for the information of the Board of Guardians, that the question of the gratuitous supply of vaccine lymph has been for some time under the consideration of Her Majesty's Government, and that a communication has been made by direction of His Grace the Lord Lieutenant to the Directors of the Dublin Cow Pock Institution to the effect that it is proposed to vest the administration of the grant for the supply of vaccine lymph in the Local Government Board for Ireland, whose duties in relation to the grant will commence on the 1st April next, the grant hitherto received by the Cow Pock Institution ceasing at the termination of the present financial year, the 31st March, 1877, after which date the unions and dispensary districts will cease to be supplied by the Directors of the Institution with lymph, and will make known their wants in that respect to the Local Government Board.

It is not intended, in supplying lymph gratuitously hereafter to workhouses and dispensaries, to supersede or interfere with the practice of vaccination from arm to arm, where feasible, or, in the second place, the practice of storing in capillary tubes, or otherwise, lymph chosen by the vaccinators themselves from the best sources available, a practice which now most extensively prevails with Dispensary Medical Officers; but it is hoped that the Parliamentary grant will be found sufficient to keep up an adequate supply in Dublin to meet demands arising from deficiency of lymph casually arising throughout the country.

Hitherto such demands have been supplied mainly by lymph procured in Dublin, but the change about to be made will render the entire country available for the collection of lymph from the most eligible sources, with the assistance of a select number of Dispensary Officers, to be duly remunerated for their trouble.

The only expense which the Boards of Guardians are likely to incur hereafter for the supply of vaccine lymph will be incurred as heretofore in the supply of capillary tubes to Dispensary Officers on the requisition of their respective committees.

By order of the Board,

B. Banks, Secretary.

To the Clerk of each Union.

[A similar Circular was sent to the Honorary Secretary of each Dispensary Committee.]

No. 4.—Supply of Vaccine Lymph.

Local Government Board, Dublin,
23rd March, 1877.

Sir,

Adverting to their Circular Letter of the 14th November, 1876, the Local Government Board for Ireland have to announce that they are making arrangements for assuming the control of the supply of vaccine lymph in Ireland, and are about to avail themselves, as previously arranged by Her Majesty's Government, of the services of the Officers of the Dublin Cowpock Institution, in regard to the collection and distribution of lymph, and that these operations will be carried on, as hitherto, at the premises, No. 45, Upper Sackville-street, Dublin.

An important change, however, takes place in the mode of collection of the lymph, which has hitherto been carried on chiefly by taking it from the arm on ivory points, and distributing it in that form—no considerable proportion having been at any time collected in capillary tubes.

One material advantage of the latter process, although requiring more trouble and care in manipulation, is, that the quality of the lymph can be tested by microscopical examination, and thus any lymph that is not faultless, so far as can be ascertained from its appearance to the eye, may be kept out of circulation.

On the other hand, this consideration does not involve any objection to distributing the lymph, when once approved and accepted, by means of ivory points, to which some practitioners are partial from having always used them.

Many Dispensary Medical Officers have, however, been long accustomed to the practice, originally recommended by the Poor Law Commissioners (see Circular of 28th October, 1863), of collecting and storing lymph for their own use in Husband's capillary tubes, and have been supplied with tubes for that purpose by the Guardians, which practice it is desirable to continue.

Should any Dispensary Medical Officer well experienced in the use of capillary tubes be able to collect lymph, in excess of what he requires for his own use, it is open to him to tender it in tubes to the Vaccine Department of the Local Government Board, receiving, after examination and acceptance, the sum of sixpence for each well filled tube containing unexceptionable lymph, and to become a recognized permanent collector, if not excluded by the obvious necessity of limiting the number of such collectors of vaccine lymph. In the first instance the Board wish to treat the selection of vaccine collectors as an open matter, and will receive and deal with such tubes as may be sent to them by Dispensary Medical Officers who may be willing to contribute to the general supply on the terms mentioned.

The transmission should be made in small wooden boxes, obtainable probably from the parties who supply empty tubes for dispensary service.

The gentlemen selected for vaccine collectors will be furnished with printed forms to enable them to keep a precise record of the source from which each tube has been filled, and so to furnish a means of investigation should any complaint of the quality of the lymph arise.

Boards of Guardians and Dispensary Committees will have the goodness to make the contents of this Circular known to the Dispensary Medical Officers within their respective unions and districts.

By order of the Board,

B. Banks, Secretary.

and each Dispensary Committee.

II.—CORRESPONDENCE RELATING TO THE PREVALENCE OF SMALL-POX IN LONDON, LIVERPOOL, AND MANCHESTER, AND THE REMOVAL OF IRISH PAUPERS FROM PLACES IN WHICH SMALL-POX WAS PREVALENT.

No. 1.—Letter from the Local Government Board to the Under Secretary to the Lord Lieutenant.

Local Government Board, Dublin,
13th July, 1876.

Sir,

The Local Government Board for Ireland desire to draw the attention of their Excellencies the Lords Justices to the prevalence of the disease of small-pox at the present time in London, Manchester, and Liverpool.

The Board at the same time desire to represent the comparative freedom of Ireland from the disease, no cases having been reported for a considerable period.

Three hundred and ninety persons have died of the disease in Manchester since the beginning of the present year, and from the returns of the Registrar-General, England, during the seven weeks ending the 8th instant, it appears that the disease has recently greatly increased in Liverpool, and has proved fatal in eighty-eight cases.

There were in that town:

2	deaths in the week ending		the 27th May,	1876.
11	"	"	3rd June,	"
15	"	"	10th June,	"
18	"	"	17th June,	"
18	"	"	24th June,	"
17	"	"	1st July,	"
7	"	"	8th July,	"

and an opinion is expressed in the Medical Press of the 12th instant to the effect that Liverpool is "on the verge of a severe small-pox visitation."

The Board desire further to refer to the Annual Report of 1872, paragraph 9, and also to the correspondence contained in the appendix to that Report, with respect to the introduction of small-pox into Ireland from Liverpool and other places by means of parties transmitted under warrants of removal.

It seems to be very probable that on this occasion the disease may be imported from Great Britain into Ireland, as it undoubtedly was in 1870 and 1871, and that it would be desirable to obtain, if possible, a temporary discontinuance of the practice of removal by the Liverpool authorities such as took place in that year in consequence of the representations of the Local Government Board.

A letter to the Under Secretary, dated 26th March, 1872, will be found at pages 60–62, in the Annual Report of the Poor Law Commissioners above referred to, a copy of which is enclosed.

No. 4.—Letter from the Local Government Board to the Under Secretary to the Lord Lieutenant.

Local Government Board, Dublin,
Sir, 31st July, 1876.

In reference to the correspondence pending with the Secretary of State for the Home Department, respecting the prevention of the introduction of small-pox into Ireland, the Local Government Board for Ireland have the honour to report, for the information of His Grace the Lord Lieutenant, that a woman named Elizabeth Coles, who left Manchester with her husband and child on the 19th instant, and arrived in Dublin on the following day, was visited by one of the medical officers of the South Dublin City Dispensary District at No. 17, Upper Ernestreet, on the 26th instant, and was found to be suffering from small-pox, and has since been admitted (on the 27th instant) into Sir Patrick Dun's Hospital.

Although this is not the case of a person removed to Ireland by warrant of removal, it shows the risk of importation of the disease from infected localities in England.

Sir, 14th August, 1876.

I am directed by the Local Government Board to state that on the 18th ultimo they received from the Home Office a copy of your letter to the Chief Secretary for Ireland of the 13th ultimo, in which you suggest that, in order to prevent, so far as possible, the introduction of small-pox into Ireland, the practice of removing paupers to that country from Liverpool (where the disease is prevalent) should be suspended.

The Board direct me to state that they have communicated with the Select Vestry of Liverpool on the subject, and have received a reply, a copy of which is enclosed for the information of the Local Government Board for Ireland.

To B. Banks, esq.,

ENCLOSURE in No. 6.—LETTER from the SELECT VESTRY of LIVERPOOL to the LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD, ENGLAND.

Liverpool, 1st August, 1876.

MY LORDS AND GENTLEMEN,

I have the honour, by direction of the Select Vestry of this parish, to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 21st ultimo, forwarding for their consideration copy of letter from the Local Government Board for Ireland relative to the possible introduction of small-pox into Ireland by means of persons removed under warrants from this country.

The Select Vestry direct me to point out to you that the number of persons removed at their instance to Ireland during the last three months is forty-one—a number rather in excess than otherwise of the average number removed during a like period; and further, that although unfortunately there are a greater number of small-pox cases in the town than there ordinarily are, the disease is not so rife in the parish as to occasion any serious alarm.

If the action which it is now suggested should be taken formed part of some general plan by which the intercourse between the two countries should be placed under restriction, with a view to prevent the introduction of the disease into Ireland, the Select Vestry would be very unwilling to place any difficulties in the way of its adoption; but as an isolated act to stop a single species of traffic affecting probably not one in a thousand of those passing from Liverpool to Ireland is a proceeding of which the Select Vestry fail to see the value, whilst it would operate to inflict upon the ratepayers of this parish a certain and appreciable burden.

It further appears to them that in some respects this particular species of intercourse is attended with less risk than almost any other; for whilst other persons pass without restraint from the one country to the other, and whilst nothing is known as to the sanitary conditions of the houses they last slept in before making the journey, in the cases of persons removed under warrant they, in almost every instance, pass several days in the ordinary wards of the workhouse in apartments which and in association with persons who are known to be free from the disease; whilst all must pass a medical examination before the removal is effected. If, therefore, small-pox should be introduced from this country into Ireland, the probability is that it will be through some other medium than that of a person removed under warrant.

At the same time, if the Irish Poor Law authorities, taking a stronger view of the extent of the risk, still think it desirable that further removals should be suspended, it would only be equitable that they should accept the burden of the maintenance of such persons as, but for their interference, would be transferred to Irish workhouses. If they are prepared to repay to this parish the cost of relief given to persons whose removal is suspended, the Select Vestry will be happy to concur in any arrangements which you may consider to be reasonable under the circumstances.

I am, &c.,

(Signed), Hy. Hogger.

The Local Government Board,
Whitehall, London.

No. 7.—Letter from the Local Government Board, Ireland, to the Local Government Board, England.

Local Government Board, Dublin,
Sir, 20th September, 1876.

I am directed by the Local Government Board for Ireland to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 14th ultimo (No. 49,286 A), enclosing a copy of a communication from the Select Vestry of Liverpool on the subject of the possible introduction of small-pox into Ireland by means of persons removed under warrants from England, and in reference to the Board's suggestion that the removal of persons to Ireland by the Liverpool authorities should be temporarily discontinued, as in 1871.

In reply I am to state, for the information of the Local Government Board in England, that the Local Government Board for Ireland has made inquiry, and finds that of the forty-one persons sent over by warrant from Liverpool, as stated in the letter from the Select Vestry, in the three months preceding the date of their letter (1st August), seventeen were sent to Dublin, and were received in one or other of the Dublin workhouses, and that, with one exception, all left the workhouse the same day or the next day, so that any trace of them was at once lost to the union authorities.

It is satisfactory to know, as represented in the communication from the Select Vestry, that their present practice is to retain persons intended for removal for some days in the workhouse, but heretofore the Local Government Board has regarded this deported class with apprehension as more likely to bring with them the seeds of small-pox from having previously lodged in parts of such a town as Liverpool, most liable to infection, as inhabited by the poorest classes, and also from the fact that the time of incubation of the disease is supposed to be so much as fourteen days.

As it regards the present question, the difference between this class of passengers from Liverpool to Ireland, and the far more numerous section who pass voluntarily every day, seems to be that the latter could not be prevented doing so by any practicable means, whereas the compulsion by which the other class are made to go whether they will or not, might easily cease or be suspended for some time.

The proposal of the Liverpool Vestry to maintain such persons, forbearing their removal, at the expense of the Irish Poor Law authorities cannot be entertained, as such expenditure could not legally take place under the Irish Poor Law, and therefore this alternative is out of the question.

The Local Government Board for Ireland desire now to point out that it is, by the 2nd section of the 8th and 9th Victoria, cap. 117, left absolutely at the discretion of Justices, Stipendiary and Police Magistrates in England, when applied to for orders of removal to Ireland, to make or not to make such orders and to refuse to do so, under circumstances which they may consider to justify such refusal; and the Local Government Board further submit that the presence of small-pox epidemic in any parish would be a sufficient reason for Justices to refuse to make Removal Orders from such Parish to Ireland.

Enclosure in No. 11.—Letter from the Local Government Board to the Board of Guardians of South Dublin Union.

Local Government Board, Dublin,
Sir, 24th October, 1876.

Referring to their letter of the 12th of July last, the Local Government Board for Ireland desire to call the attention of the Board of Guardians of South Dublin Union to the continued prevalence of small-pox in London, Manchester, and Salford, Liverpool, and elsewhere.

Since the beginning of July last, it appears from the Returns of the Registrar-General, England, that up to the 16th instant there had been 137 deaths from small-pox registered in London alone, whilst there were but 33 deaths from the disease in the first six months of the year.

Deaths from small-pox also continue to be numerous in Salford, Manchester, and Liverpool.

Ireland has been up to the present time this year remarkably free from cases of the disease, although a few have been imported from England, one of which only has been fatal in Dublin.

Under such circumstances great vigilance should be used in dealing at once with any cases which may arrive in Dublin in vessels coming into the port; and the Board think it right again to point out that the Intercepting Hospital Ship is applicable to the reception and treatment of small-pox cases arriving by sea or found on board ship, as explained in their circular letter of the 27th January, 1874, a copy of which, as well as of the order constituting the Board of Guardians of South Dublin Union the Port Nuisance Authority of the District, is enclosed herewith.

By order of the Board,

(Signed), B. Banks, Secretary.

The Clerk, South Dublin Union.

No. 12.—Letter from the Local Government Board to the Board of Guardians of South Dublin Union.

Local Government Board, Dublin,
Sir, 15th November, 1876.

The Local Government Board for Ireland acknowledge the receipt of replies to the usual heads of inquiry, together with the Warants for the removal of the following persons to the Workhouse of South Dublin Union :—

Rose Rafferty,	from	Salford Union.
Joseph Day,	„	Liverpool Parish.
Edward Dwyer,	„	Strand Union, London.
Mary Alice Fairfield,	„	St. Pancras Parish, London.
Margaret M'Cormick,	„	„ „ „

And in reference thereto, the Board have to point out that small-pox is prevalent at Salford and Liverpool, and also in London, where it is reported to be on the increase.

A case of small-pox was imported not long since from Salford into Dublin, and it would be an obviously safe precaution that persons removed or coming to the Workhouse from Salford, or any other place where the disease is known to prevail, should be isolated from the other inmates for at least a fortnight after admission.

One case such as that of "Joseph Day," removed from Liverpool, where he is described to have been "tramping about," might easily have the effect of introducing the disease into Dublin; and the Board will be obliged by the Guardians giving their best attention to the matter.

The Board have at the same time to state for the Guardians' information that several cases not under removal have recently been imported from Liverpool.

The following are particulars of ten cases recently reported to the Local Government Board :—

Navan Union.—Two children named James and Michael Murtha, aged four and two years respectively, who arrived at Liverpool, from America, on the 10th October, and who showed symptoms of the disease about a week after they reached home in the Painstown Dispensary District, having passed through Dublin.

Rathdown Union.—Three cases in the village of Newtown-park, introduced from Liverpool, where the man first attacked in the village had been on a visit to a relative who was suffering from a bad form of the disease. These cases were reported on the 24th October.

Rathdown Union.—A man named Ward admitted to the Fever Hospital, on the 30th October, having been taken ill in Camden-street, Dublin, a fortnight before. (Source not yet traced.)

Wexford Union.—Four cases, three being in one family, and the fourth that of a friend visiting the family (and which case ended fatally), the disease having been brought into the district by a young man who, on his return from America, remained a few days in a house in Liverpool, in which there was small-pox, the disease having manifested itself on him a few days after his reaching home. Reported on the 21st August.

I am directed by the Lord Lieutenant to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 15th instant, relative to the continued prevalence of small-pox in England in places from which paupers are removed to this country; and I am to state, for the information of the Local Government Board, that a communication on the subject was addressed on the 25th ultimo to the Home Department, and no reply having yet been received, a further letter has this day been addressed to that Department.

Local Government Board, Dublin,
SIR, 24th November, 1876.

The Board have also received intimation of a further case in which the patient had been discharged recently from this Hospital, and on whom the disease appeared at Kingstown.

A copy of a letter which the Board have addressed to the Dublin Urban Sanitary Authority on the subject is also enclosed for His Grace's information.

ENCLOSURE 1 in No. 15.—LETTER from Dr. FERGUSON to the LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD.

10, Summer-hill, Dispensary,
GENTLEMEN, 20th November, 1876.

I have to inform you that some cases of small-pox have occurred in the No. 1, North City District (in the North Dublin Union). Two cases were confluent and died, the others were mild, and the patients are recovering.

I remain, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

J. R. FERGUSON, M.B.,
Medical Officer, to No. 1, North City Dispensary.

To the Local Government Board.

ENCLOSURE 2 in No. 15.—LETTER from Dr. FERGUSON to the LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD.

10, Summer-hill, Dispensary,
GENTLEMEN, 24th November, 1876.

I regret that I did not state (when mentioning that cases of small-pox occurred in the No. 1, North City District), that they all occurred in the Mater Misericordiæ Hospital. I made particular inquiry this day at the Hospital, and was informed that the two cases of death from confluent small-pox, were admitted about the middle of September, as pure fever cases; and the small-pox symptoms did not appear for many days after their admission, and therefore that no idea of any small-pox taint in the houses that they came from, could cause any uneasiness.

Eight other cases are in the Hospital, of course isolated from the other patients. Four are those of Medical Students who contracted in the discharge of their duty, and four patients who came in labouring under fever and took the small-pox since their admission.

It is supposed that one of the patients imported the disease from Liverpool. No other cause of the disease can now be made out.

Of course any case of the disease occurring in the district under my knowledge I will immediately report, and take all the necessary sanitary steps.

I remain, gentlemen, your obedient servant,

(Signed), J. R. FERGUSON, M.B.

To the Local Government Board.

ENCLOSURE 3 in No. 15.—LETTER from the LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD to the DUBLIN URBAN SANITARY AUTHORITY.

Local Government Board, Dublin,
SIR, 24th November, 1876.

With reference to their letter of the 21st instant, the Local Government Board for Ireland forward herewith, to be laid before the Dublin Urban Sanitary Authority, a copy of a letter which they have this day received from Dr. Ferguson, relative to the cases of small-pox recently reported by him, with a view to application being made to the Mater Misericordiæ Hospital to ascertain the particulars as to the places of abode of the patients who came in with small-pox and died, one of whom is stated to have imported the disease from Liverpool.

The Board will be glad to be apprised of any information which may be obtained on the subject, and also under what circumstances this patient came over to Dublin.

An extract from the minutes of proceedings of the Board of Guardians of Rathdown Union, on the 22nd instant, relating to another case at Kingstown, which originated apparently in the Mater Misericordiæ Hospital, is also enclosed, the man having resided recently in Dublin.

By order of the Board,

(Signed), B. BANKS, Secretary.

James Boyle, esq.,
Executive Sanitary Officer.

ENCLOSURE in foregoing LETTER.

EXTRACT from MINUTES of PROCEEDINGS of the BOARD of GUARDIANS of RATHDOWN UNION, dated 22nd November, 1876.

That a man of colour, aged nineteen years, was admitted to the Fever Hospital from Kingstown, on the 20th instant, affected with modified small-pox; that he states that a fortnight prior to his admission he had been discharged from the Mater Misericordiæ Hospital where he had been for a week; that he was then lodging at No. 2, Graves-place, off Sherriff-street, Dublin, and worked on the quay; that he left that place and went to Goff's-court, Kingstown, on the 17th instant, from which place he came to the Hospital; that he had been properly vaccinated and is not aware that he had been exposed to infection. That a man named Williams and his wife were admitted to the workhouse from Bray, and that in a day or two after their admission they showed symptoms of fever, and are now under treatment in Hospital; that it is stated they had been lodging in a house where the disease was at the time, and that he cannot vouch for the truthfulness of the statements, their intellect not being clear when they came under his care.

Ordered,—Clerk is instructed to call the attention of the Urban Sanitary Authority to this report.

No. 16.—LETTER from the ASSISTANT UNDER SECRETARY to the LORD LIEUTENANT to the LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD.

Dublin Castle,
SIR, 25th November, 1876.

I am directed by the Lord Lieutenant to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of the 24th instant, with its enclosures, relative to some cases of small-pox in the Mater Misericordiæ Hospital, and to acquaint you, for the information of the Local Government Board, that His Grace has caused your letter to be transmitted to the Secretary of State for the Home Department.

I am, &c.,

HENRY ROBINSON.

The Secretary, Local Government Board.

No. 17.—LETTER from the ASSISTANT UNDER SECRETARY to the LORD LIEUTENANT to the LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD.

Dublin Castle,
SIR, 30th November, 1876.

With reference to previous correspondence respecting the possible introduction of small-pox into Ireland by means of paupers transmitted from England under Warrants of Removal, I am directed by the Lord Lieutenant to transmit to you, to be laid before the Local Government Board, the accompanying communication with enclosures from the Home Office; and I am to request that you will move the Board to favour me, for His Grace's information, with their views on the subject of the maintenance of such paupers as are remitted to unions in England, under the circumstances set forth in the enclosures of the letter from the Home Department.

I am to request that you will be so good as to return the enclosures.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

Enclosure 1 in No. 17.—Letter from the Secretary of State for the Home Department to the Under Secretary to the Lord Lieutenant.

Whitehall,
Sir, 29th November, 1876.

I am directed by the Secretary of State to acknowledge the receipt of your letters of the 25th ultimo, and of the 10th and 25th instant, with their several enclosures, on the subject of the possible introduction of small-pox into Ireland by means of persons transmitted from England under warrants of removal, and I am to transmit to you herewith, to be laid before the Lord Lieutenant, a copy of a letter which the Secretary of State has received from the Local Government Board as to the best means of dealing with the question, and a copy of a circular which he has had prepared in accordance with the suggestion of the Local Government Board, but before circulating it he wishes to know what suggestions His Grace might wish to make as to the payment of costs of maintenance of such paupers as are remitted to unions or parishes in England, by reason of the refusal of the Justices to make orders of removal on the grounds set out in the circular. The Secretary of State apprehends that without some arrangement as to payment of such costs, great complaint would be made on behalf of the ratepayers at being saddled with the expense of maintaining such paupers, and the Justices might refuse to exercise their discretion in the mode suggested.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

(Signed), A. F. O. Liddell.

The Under Secretary,
Dublin Castle.

Enclosure 2 in No. 17.—Letter from the Local Government Board, England, to the Secretary of State for the Home Department.

Local Government Board,
Whitehall. S.W.,
Sir, 22nd November, 1876.

I am directed by the Local Government Board to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 30th ultimo, with its enclosures, informing them of the suggestion of Mr. Secretary Cross that, in view of the prevalence of small-pox in England, a circular letter should be addressed to the Magistrates in England, either by the Secretary of State or by this Board, recommending that, should small-pox be rife within their jurisdiction, they should postpone in each case, the execution of any order of removal which they may make until the pauper shall have been within the Workhouse such a time as would be a guarantee against his being sent off in a diseased condition.

In reply the Board direct me to state that it appears to them that there would be great difficulty in giving effect to this recommendation, inasmuch as there is no legal authority under which a pauper not actually suffering from the disease could be compulsorily detained in the workhouse in the manner proposed. At the same time there can be no doubt that with respect to Irish paupers it is entirely within the discretion of the Justices whether they will make an order for their removal to Ireland or not, and it would be competent for the Justices to decline to issue their warrant in any particular case, if they had reasonable grounds for believing that the removal would be likely to spread infection.

In those districts where small-pox is so prevalent as to render special precautions against the diffusion of the disease expedient, the Board consider that the attention of the Justices might properly be directed to the discretionary power vested in them by the statute, but it appears to the Board that such circular should emanate from the Secretary of State and not from their Department.

The Board may add that the only places where small-pox is prevalent at the present time are Manchester, Salford, Liverpool, a few other places in Lancashire, and certain parts of London.

The enclosures which accompanied your letter are returned herewith.

I am, &c.,

Hugh Owen, Jun.,
Assistant Secretary.

To the Under Secretary of State,
Home Department.

Enclosure 3 in No. 17.—Proposed Circular to Justices.

Whitehall,
November, 1876.

Gentlemen,

The attention of Mr. Secretary Cross having been called by the Irish Government to the subject of the prevalence of small-pox in several parts of England, and the possible introduction of the disease into Ireland by means of persons transmitted from England under warrants of removal, I am directed to recommend, for your consideration, that in the event of applications for removal of paupers from a district within your jurisdiction, where small-pox is rife, to Ireland, it would be advisable that you should, in the exercise of the discretion vested in you by the statute, decline to issue your warrant for such removal if you had reasonable grounds for believing that the removal would be likely to spread infection.

I am, &c.,

The Justices acting for .

No. 18.—Letter from the Local Government Board to the Assistant Under Secretary to the Lord Lieutenant.

Local Government Board, Dublin,
Sir, 2nd December, 1876.

The Local Government Board for Ireland acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 30th ultimo, transmitting a communication, with enclosures, from the Home Office respecting the possible introduction of small-pox into Ireland by means of paupers transmitted from England under warrants of removal, and the suggestion that removals from places in England where the disease is prevalent should be temporarily discontinued.

With reference to your request to be furnished, for the information of His Grace the Lord Lieutenant, with their views on the subject of the payment of the cost of maintenance of such paupers as may be remitted to unions or parishes in England by reason of the refusal of the Justices to make orders of removal in the event of the draft circular enclosed with the letter from the Home Office beingissued,—the Local Government Board have the honour to call attention to the statement in their letter of the 20th September last to the Local Government Board, England, to the effect that the law does not admit of any payment from the Irish poor rates being made in respect of relief afforded in Great Britain; nor are the Local Government Board prepared to recommend any alteration of the law so as to introduce such a system under any circumstances.

A copy of the letter of the 20th September was forwarded to the Chief Secretary's Office on the 21st September.

If therefore Justices of the Peace after the receipt of the proposed circular should nevertheless in some cases grant removal orders from parishes subject to dangerous epidemic disease at the risk of such disease being thus conveyed to Ireland, that course, however it might be a subject for regret, must be admitted to be quite legal; but the Local Government Board cannot but think that the circular would in many cases induce the Justices to abstain, in the exercise of the discretion allowed them by statute, from signing such warrants of removal from the localities in question.

The enclosures to your letter are returned herewith as requested.

By order of the Board,

(Signed), B. Banks, Secretary.

No. 19.—Letter from the Local Government Board to the Under Secretary to the Lord Lieutenant.

Local Government Board, Dublin,
Sir, 11th December, 1876.

Adverting to their letter of the 2nd instant, on the subject of the prevalence of small-pox in Liverpool and other places in England, and the possible danger of the infection being conveyed to Ireland by persons sent from Liverpool and elsewhere under warrants of removal, the Local Government Board for Ireland desire to state that it appears by the public papers of the day that small-pox has now become epidemic in Liverpool.

It is from thence that the danger is mainly to be apprehended, and as the Board find that removals still take place from Liverpool they are desirous of calling the attention of their Excellencies the Lords Justices to the recent correspondence on the subject.

I am directed by the Lords Justices to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 11th instant respecting the prevalence of small-pox in Liverpool, where it would appear the disease has now become epidemic, and I am to acquaint you, for the information of the Local Government Board, that their Excellencies have forwarded a copy of your communication to the Secretary of State for the Home Department, with a request to be informed whether the circular referred to in the Home Office letter of the 22nd ultimo, has been addressed to the Justices in England and Wales.

With reference to previous correspondence on the subject of the possible introduction of small-pox into Ireland by means of persons transmitted from England under warrants of removal, I am directed by the Lords Justices to transmit to you, to be laid before the Local Government Board, the enclosed copy of a further communication from the Secretary of State for the Home Department.

Enclosure in No. 21.—Letter from the Secretary of State for the Home Department to the Under Secretary to the Lord Lieutenant.

Whitehall,
Sir, 14th December, 1876.

I am directed by the Secretary of State to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 12th instant, inquiring, by desire of the Irish Government, as to the steps that are being taken to prevent the possible introduction of small-pox into Ireland by means of persons transmitted from England under warrants of removal, and I am to acquaint you, for the information of the Irish Government, that in the absence of any provision for payment of the cost of maintenance of Irish paupers detained in this country through fear of infection if sent home to Ireland, the Secretary of State has not felt warranted in issuing the circular proposed. He, however, is in communication with the President of the Local Government Board in England on the subject, and hopes that means may be devised for minimising the risk as far as possible.

Local Government Board, Dublin,
Sir, 20th December, 1876.

The Local Government Board for Ireland acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 15th instant transmitting for their information—with reference to the previous correspondence relative to the possible introduction of small-pox into Ireland by means of persons transmitted from England under warrants of removal—a copy of a further communication from the Secretary of State for the Home Department, from which it appears that under the circumstances therein stated, the Secretary of State has not felt warranted in issuing the proposed circular to English Justices, but that he is in communication with the President of the Local Government Board in England on the subject, and hopes that means may be devised for diminishing the risk as far as possible, and the Board have to express their thanks for your communication.

The Local Government Board have at the same time the honour to forward, for the information of their Excellencies the Lords Justices, a copy of a letter which they have addressed to the Guardians of the North and South Dublin Unions, respectively, suggesting that they should provide hospital accommodation, under their own control, for small-pox and other contagious diseases.

It will be observed that there were 689 cases treated in the West Derby (Liverpool) Workhouse from the 1st June last to the 9th ultimo.

ENCLOSURE in No. 22—LETTER from the LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD to the BOARDS of GUARDIANS of NORTH and SOUTH DUBLIN UNIONS.

Local Government Board, Dublin,
SIR, 18th December, 1876.

The Local Government Board for Ireland desire to call the attention of the Board of Guardians of { 1. North Dublin / 2. South Dublin } Union to the prevalence of small-pox in London, Liverpool, Manchester, and other parts of England, at the present time, and also to the occurrence of several cases in the city and neighbourhood of Dublin, very many of which are traceable to contagion from one case treated in a hospital in the city where fever patients are admitted—the Mater Misericordiæ Hospital.

It will be in the recollection of the Guardians that the infection of small-pox was conveyed, on a former occasion, by a convalescent patient in the Hardwicke Hospital to a person who was under treatment there for erysipelas. This was previous to the outbreak of small-pox in Ireland, in 1871.

By a return which has just been presented to the Board of Guardians of West Derby Union (Liverpool), by the Medical Officer of the Workhouse, it appears that there have been 689 cases of small-pox treated in wards appropriated to the purpose, at Liverpool, from the 1st of June, last to the 9th ultimo.

The case above referred to, by which the disease was introduced into the Mater Misericordiæ Hospital, came from Stoneyhurst, through Salford (Manchester) and Liverpool, and it was doubtless in one of these places that the disease was contracted and introduced into Dublin.

The object which the Local Government Board have in now addressing the Board of Guardians of { 1. North Dublin / 2. South Dublin } Union, is to bring before them the necessity of providing beforehand separate hospital accommodation for small-pox patients, so as to isolate any such cases,—perfect isolation not being, the Board believe, provided for in some of the Dublin General Hospitals.

There can be no question as to the dangerous character of hospitals for the treatment of other kinds of disease being used for small-pox patients. Recent as well as former cases have disclosed the fact, unmistakably, that general hospitals used for small-pox cases become centres for the spread of that disease by means of contact with medical attendants, nurses, clothing, visitors, and other ways.

The Board would therefore urge upon the Guardians of { 1. North / 2. South } Dublin Union the expediency of their providing hospital accommodation, under their own control, for small-pox patients, and also of providing a convalescent department—the disease being readily conveyed outside by convalescents discharged too soon after cure.

The Board need scarcely urge the matter upon the immediate consideration of the Board of Guardians, nor point out the danger to all classes of the community, if the first outbreak of this fatal disease be not met with promptitude and vigour.

By order of the Board,

(Signed), B. BANKS, Secretary.

(2.) The Clerk, South Dublin Union.

With reference to previous correspondence, I am directed by the Lords Justices to transmit to you, to be laid before the Local Government Board, the accompanying further communication from the Home Office, with enclosures, relative to the possible introduction of small-pox into this country by means of paupers removed under warrants from places in England and Wales.

With reference to previous correspondence, I am directed by Mr. Secretary Cross to transmit to you herewith, to be laid before the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, a copy of a letter from the Local Government Board, together with a copy of correspondence which accompanied it, relative to the possible introduction of small-pox into Ireland by means of persons removed under warrants from this country.

Enclosure 2 in No. 23.—Letter from the Local Government Board, England, to the Secretary of State for the Home Department.

Local Government Board, Whitehall,
Sir, 18th December, 1876.

I am directed by the Local Government Board to acknowledge the receipt of your letters of the 11th and 14th instant, with their enclosures, relative to the proposal made by the Local Government Board (Ireland) for the suspension of removals of paupers to Ireland, by orders of Justices, from those places in England where small-pox is epidemic. With regard to the removal of paupers from Liverpool, where small-pox is stated to be epidemic, I am directed by the Board to forward to you, for the information of Mr. Secretary Cross, the enclosed copy of correspondence which has passed between them and the Select Vestry of Liverpool on the subject, from which it will be seen that the Select Vestry are, and have been, alive to the importance of the subject.

I am directed to add that the Board have instructed the Inspector of the Lancashire District to communicate with all the Boards of Guardians in his district again, upon the advisability of exercising the greatest care in cases of removal, so as to avoid any danger of the spread of infection that may be apprehended in the matter.

Enclosure 3 in No. 23.—Letter from the Local Government Board, England, to the Select Vestry of the Parish of Liverpool.

Local Government Board, Whitehall, S.W.,
Sir, 21st July, 1876.

I am directed by the Local Government Board to transmit to you, for the consideration of the Select Vestry of the Parish of Liverpool, the enclosed copy of a letter from the Local Government Board, Ireland, which has been communicated to them by Mr. Secretary Cross, relative to the fear which that Board entertains that small-pox may be introduced into Ireland by the removal of paupers there from Liverpool, under justices' orders.

The Board also enclose a copy of the report for 1872 made by the Poor Law Commissioners for Ireland.

I am, &c.,

(Signed), Danby P. Fry, Assistant Secretary.

To H. Haggard, esq.,
Clerk to the Select Vestry of the Parish of Liverpool, Liverpool.

Enclosure 4 in No. 23.—Letter from the Select Vestry of Liverpool to the Local Government Board, England.

Liverpool,
My Lords and Gentlemen, 1st August, 1876.

I have the honour, by direction of the Select Vestry of this Parish, to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 21st ultimo, forwarding for their consideration copy of a letter from the Local Government Board of Ireland, relative to the possible introduction of small-pox into Ireland, by means of the persons removed under warrants from this country.

The Select Vestry direct me to point out to you that the number of persons removed at their instance to Ireland during the last three months is 41—a number rather in excess than otherwise of the average number removed during a like period; and further, that although unfortunately there are a greater number of small-pox cases in the town than there ordinarily are, the disease is not so rife in the parish as to occasion any serious alarm.

If the action which it is now suggested should be taken form a part of some general plan by which the intercourse between the two countries should be placed under restrictions, with a view to prevent the introduction of disease into Ireland, the Select Vestry would be very unwilling to place any difficulties in the way of its adoption, but as an isolated act to stop a single species of traffic, affecting probably not one in a thousand of those passing from Liverpool to Ireland, is a proceeding of which the Select Vestry failed to see the value, whilst it would operate to inflict upon the ratepayers a certain and an appreciable burden. It further appears to them that in some respects this particular species of intercourse is attended with less risk than almost any other; for, whilst other persons pass without restraint from the one country to the other, and whilst nothing is known as to the sanitary condition of the houses they last slept in before making the journey, in the cases of persons removed under warrant, they, in almost every instance, pass several days in the ordinary wards of the workhouse, in apartments which, and in association with persons who are known to be free from the disease, whilst all must pass a medical examination before the removal is effected.

If, therefore, small-pox should be introduced from this country into Ireland, the probability is that it will be through some other medium than that of a person removed under warrant.

At the same time, if the Irish Poor Law authorities, taking a stronger view of the extent of the risk, still think it desirable that further removals should be suspended, it would only be equitable that they should accept the burden of the maintenance of such persons, as, but for their interference, would be transferred to Irish workhouses.

If they are prepared to repay to this parish the cost of relief given to persons whose removal is suspended, the Select Vestry will be happy to concur in any arrangements which you may consider to be reasonable under the circumstances.

I am, &c.

III.—CORRESPONDENCE RELATING TO THE SUPPLY OF VACCINE LYMPH.

No. 1.—LETTER from the UNDER SECRETARY to the LORD LIEUTENANT to the LOCAL GOVERNMENT BOARD.

Dublin Castle,
SIR, 16th October, 1876.

I am directed by the Lord Lieutenant to transmit to you, to be laid before the Local Government Board, the accompanying file, relative to the free supply of vaccine lymph to the workhouses and dispensaries in Ireland, and to request that you will furnish me with any observations which the Board may wish to make upon the subject.

You will please return the file.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

The Secretary,

ENCLOSURE 1 in No. 1.—LETTER from the CHIEF-SECRETARY for IRELAND to the SECRETARY of the TREASURY.

Dublin Castle,
SIR, 2nd October, 1876.

Referring to the debates in the last session of Parliament, relative to Mr. Meldon's motion of the 18th February, 1876, to increase the grant for supply of vaccine lymph in Ireland, and to his further question of 28th February, 1876, respecting the desirability of placing the Cow-pock Institution, Ireland, under the control of the Local Government Board, and of increasing the grant so as to enable vaccine lymph to be supplied gratuitously in Ireland as it is in England, and to my reply thereto (v. Hansard, vol. 227, pp. 515 and 1021), I am directed by the Lord Lieutenant to acquaint you, for the information of the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury, that the matter has been inquired into.

The Dublin Cow-pock Institution was founded in the year 1804, and is managed by a Board, consisting of six directors. These directors are self-elected and irresponsible to Government; their duties, as well as the origin, object, and progress of the institution are fully detailed in the annual report for the year ended the 31st March, 1875, and in the letter of the Secretary of the institution, dated 27th June, 1872 (copies of which are enclosed).

The institution receives a grant of £400 from Parliament, which is provided for under sub-head "D. Grants in aid of Hospitals," of the estimate for "Hospitals and Infirmaries, Ireland," class VI.

The subscriptions of Boards of Guardians for the supply of lymph produce a further sum of about £475 annually.

The accounts of the institution are published every year, but are not submitted for audit to any Government officer.

The staff of the institution consists of a secretary and two assistant secretaries, whose joint salaries amount to £420 a year; the rent, taxes, and repairs of the premises of the institution cost £200 a year, and the office expenses involve a further annual outlay of about £70.

On a careful consideration of the above-mentioned facts His Grace has arrived at the following conclusions, viz. :—

1. That it is very desirable that a free supply of lymph should be obtainable by the authorities of workhouses and dispensaries in Ireland, and that it might be advisable for several reasons, and particularly as this object could not be attained without a considerable increase in the sum at present voted by Parliament for the purpose, that the subject should no longer be dealt with by a private institution aided by Government grants, but that the control of the necessary arrangements and the administration of the grant should be vested in the Local Government Board.

His Grace understands that the Local Government Board would be prepared to undertake this service, and to afford the public bodies referred to a gratuitous and sufficient supply of lymph, if the sum of £1,200 a year, being an addition of £800 to the present grant, were placed at their disposal ; the subscriptions from the Boards of Guardians to cease upon the proposed arrangement being carried into effect.

Should their Lordships favourably entertain the above suggestion His Grace will place himself in communication with the directors of the Dublin Cow-pock Institution on the subject ; and I am directed to add that as the Local Government Board would require a staff of officers and premises for the proper administration of the grant, and as the directors of the Cow-pock Institution have appointed officers, and taken houses in the belief that the arrangements between themselves and the Government would not be disturbed, it would be desirable in the event of the transfer being effected that the officers at present in their service should be employed by the Local Government Board and be placed in the same relation to that Board in which they now stand to the directors, but not to be created or looked upon as Government officers or as having any claim to compensation or retiring allowance on ceasing to hold office, the Local Government Board, to reserve to themselves the power, on the occurrence of any vacancy, of abolishing the office if they should consider it advisable ; and also that the Government should take over the premises which may be retained or disposed of hereafter as may be deemed expedient.

I am to request, having regard to the preparation of the estimate for the coming year, that His Grace may be favoured with an early reply to this communication.

I am, &c.,

M. E. Hicks Beach.

Enclosure 2 in No. 1.—Letter from the Lords of the Treasury to the Chief Secretary for Ireland.

Treasury Chambers,
13th October, 1876.

Sir,

I am directed by the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury to acquaint you, for the information of His Grace the Lord Lieutenant, in reply to your letter of the 2nd instant, that their Lordships agree with His Grace that it is desirable that a free supply of vaccine lymph should be obtainable by the authorities of workhouses and dispensaries in Ireland, and that the subject should no longer be dealt with by a private institution aided by government grants, but that the control of the necessary arrangements and the administration of the grant should be vested in the Local Government Board for Ireland.

I am, accordingly, to state that their Lordships will be prepared to submit to Parliament an estimate for £1,200 to enable the Local Government Board to provide such a gratuitous supply for the whole of Ireland; the grant annually made to the Dublin Cow-pock Institution, viz., £400, a year, to cease altogether, and the subscriptions hitherto received by that institution from the Boards of Guardians to cease also upon the proposed arrangement being carried out.

Their Lordships agree further that it would be desirable, under all the circumstances of the case, that the officers at present in the service of the Cow-pock Institution should be employed by the Local Government Board for Ireland, and be placed in the same relation to that Board as that in which they now stand to the directors; but not to be created or looked upon as Government officers, or as having any claim to compensation or retiring allowance on ceasing to hold office.

The Local Government Board to reserve to themselves the power, on the occurrence of any vacancy, of abolishing the office if it should be considered advisable to do so.

Their Lordships agree also that the premises of the institution should be taken over, to be retained or disposed of hereafter as may be deemed expedient.

Their Lordships desire, at the same time, that it may be clearly understood, that the sum of £1,200, proposed to be voted instead of the £400, hitherto annually taken, is to include the salaries of the officers of the institution who will be taken over, the rent of the premises, and every other contingent charge in carrying out the new arrangement.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

(Signed), W. H. Smith.

Enclosure in No. 3.—Letter from the Chief Secretary for Ireland to the Directors of the Cow-pock Institution.

Dublin Castle,
Sir, 30th October, 1876.

I am directed by the Lord Lieutenant to acquaint you, for the information of the Directors of the Cow-pock Institution, that the question of the gratuitous supply of vaccine lymph in Ireland, and the propriety of increasing the grant for that purpose has been for some time under the consideration of Her Majesty's Government, and I forward to you herewith a copy of a letter addressed by the Chief Secretary for Ireland to the Lords Commissioners of Her Majesty's Treasury on the 2nd inst., and a copy of their Lordships' reply dated the 13th inst.,* from which the Directors will learn the position in which the matter stands at present, and the decision which has been arrived at on the subject.

The Directors will observe, by the correspondence referred to, that it is proposed to vest the administration of the grant for the supply of vaccine lymph in the Local Government Board for Ireland, whose duties in relation to the grant will commence on the 1st April next,—the grant of £400 per annum, hitherto received by the Cow-pock Institution, ceasing at the termination of the present financial year, the 31st March, 1877.

His Grace would be glad to be favoured with any observations which the Directors may desire to offer in regard to the proposed transfer of their premises to the Local Government Board and to the employment by that Board of the officers at present in the service of the Cow-pock Institution on the conditions mentioned in the Treasury letter of the 13th instant.

Having regard to the increased expenditure involved in the present scheme and the great advantages the public will derive thereby, His Grace confidently trusts that the Directors of the Cow-pock Institution will acquiesce in the changes and arrangements which are now in contemplation.

I am, &c.,

T. H. Burke.

As His Grace has expressed a wish "to be favoured with any observation which the Directors may desire to offer in regard to the proposed transfer of their premises to the Local Government Board of Ireland," the Directors request the delay of a few days for consideration.

With reference to former correspondence relative to the gratuitous supply of vaccine lymph to the Workhouses and Dispensaries in Ireland, I am directed by the Lord Lieutenant to transmit to you, for the information of the Local Government Board, the accompanying letter and printed enclosure, which have been received from the Directors of the Cow-pock Institution on the subject, as well as a copy of the reply.

Enclosure 1 in No. 6.—Letter from the Directors of the Cow-pock Institution to the Under Secretary to the Lord Lieutenant.

Cow-pock Institution, 45, Upper Sackville-street,
Sir, Dublin, November 23, 1876.

In reference to your communication of the 23rd October last (No. 16,040) concerning the transfer of the Cow-pock Institution together with its officers and premises to the Local Government Board for Ireland, the Directors of the Institution have instructed me to submit, for the information of His Grace the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, the following observations upon the contemplated change and to draw his attention to the enclosed document.

The Directors have, in a great number of their yearly reports, expressed their sentiments upon the importance of a gratuitous supply of vaccine lymph to the people of Ireland in the same manner as it is afforded to the people of England, and have repeatedly asked for an additional grant from Government to enable them to accomplish this great desideratum. They are, therefore, glad to learn that the Government is about to adopt their views, even upon the condition that they should hand over the Institution, its officers and premises, to the Local Government Board for Ireland.

The Directors are fully alive to the advantages to be derived by the country under such an arrangement, and, consequently, they cordially acquiesce with the views of the Government in the proposed transfer, securing, as it does, the free distribution of vaccine lymph, not only to Dispensaries and Workhouses, but to the general public.

The Directors and their predecessors have always endeavoured to appoint as officers in their Institution medical men competent to fulfil their special duties. For a period of seventy-two years their officers have carried on the work of their Institution in such a manner (taking into consideration the very scanty means at their disposal) as to maintain a distribution of vaccine lymph sufficient to render Ireland during the greater part of their Directorate comparatively free from variola.

They have procured free vaccination at their Institution for 238,576 persons, and issued therefrom 483,701 charges of lymph to the public, 22,000 of which was forwarded to the army.

The letter enclosed in your communication of the 30th ult., from Sir M. H. Beach to the Secretary of the Treasury, dated 2nd October, 1876, states as follows:—"The accounts of the Institution are published every year, but are not submitted for audit to any Government Officer." In reply, the Directors desire me to say that some time previously to the demise of their late Secretary, Dr. Dwyer, the accounts were regularly forwarded to London to the Audit Office, but a comparatively short period before his death the custom was discontinued by the Government much to the regret of the Directors.

The property of the Directors is as follows:—

1. House and premises, No. 45, Upper Sackville-street, with coach-house and out-offices thereto, but exclusive of vaults, which run under the rere of said premises. These premises are held under a fee-farm grant for ever, subject to payment of the yearly rent of £12 9*s.* 3*d.* sterling, payable half-yearly on every 1st day of May and 1st day of November. The premises are very valuable. The purchase-money paid by the Directors was £1,250.

2. House and tenement, No. 45, York-street, city of Dublin, with yard, garden, stable, and coach-house at rere. These premises are held under lease, dated 2nd November, 1857, for a term of thirty-one years from 1st of November, 1857, subject to payment of the yearly rent of £45. Lease contains a covenant against opening a shop or carrying on any offensive or noisy trade, business or profession therein; also, a covenant to keep premises assured against fire in a sum of £400. The coach-house, stable, and two lofts at rere of this house have been leased by the Directors to Mr. Frank Mulvany, by lease dated 15th May, 1873, for a period of fifteen years from 1st May, 1873, subject to the payment of yearly rent of £16, tenant not to be liable to payment of last half years' rent of term thereby demised, which reduces the rent payable therefor to £39 a year.

Griffith's valuations of foregoing are:—

45, Upper Sackville-street . . .	£120
45, York-street	£40

3. Front lower room off hall of house No. 35½, New-row, in the city of Dublin, held under an agreement dated 10th June, 1862, subject to rent of £12 per annum, payable half-yearly on every 6th day of December and 6th day of June; room to be used as an auxiliary Cow-pock Institution, either party to be at liberty to determine the tenancy at any time on giving to the other three months' notice in writing. Present landlord is Mr. Cunningham.

4. Front lower room off hall, house No. 23, Phœnix-street, in the city of Dublin, held under an agreement dated 10th June, 1862, subject to the annual rent of £10, payable half-yearly on every 6th day of December and 6th day of June; room to be used as that held in New-row, west, for the same purpose and upon the same terms.

The Directors are now prepared to transfer the property and management of the Institution to the Local Government Board for Ireland upon the explicit understanding contained in the communication of Sir M. H. Beach, before quoted, that the officers at present in their service shall continue to be employed and be placed "in the same relation to the Local Government Board they now stand to the Directors." They also trust the Government will see the propriety of making them civil servants, and take into consideration (as a matter of simple justice) their past services successfully rendered to the people of Ireland.

I have the honour to be your most obedient very humble servant,

(Signed), Edward B. Sinclair, A.M., M.D., Secretary.

Thomas H. Burke, Esq.,
Under Secretary.

Enclosure 2 in No. 6.—Letter from the Assistant Under Secretary of the Lord Lieutenant to the Secretary of the Cow-pock Institution.

Dublin Castle,
Sir, 28th November, 1876.

I am directed by the Lord Lieutenant to acknowledge, with His Grace's thanks, the receipt of your letter of the 23rd inst., conveying the observations of the Directors of the Cow-pock Institution relative to the new arrangements to be carried out in connexion with the gratuitous supply of vaccine lymph to the Workhouses and Dispensaries in Ireland; and I am to state that it has been forwarded to the Local Government Board for their information.

With reference to the observation of the Directors, that they trust the Government will see the propriety of making the officers at present in their service civil servants, and take into consideration (as a matter of simple justice) their past services successfully rendered to the people of Ireland, his Grace desires me to invite the Directors' attention to that part of the Treasury letter of the 13th ultimo, in which their Lordships state that the officers referred to are not to be created or looked upon as Government officers, or as having any claim to compensation or retiring allowance on ceasing to hold office.

I am, sir, &c., &c.,

No. 7.—Letter from the Local Government Board to the Secretary of the Cow-pock Institution.

Local Government Board, Dublin,
Sir, 15th January, 1877.

With reference to previous correspondence on the subject of the arrangements proposed with the view of providing a gratuitous supply of vaccine lymph to the Workhouses and Dispensaries in Ireland, the Local Government Board for Ireland request that you will have the goodness to call on Dr. Croker-King at this office at your earliest convenience, either before 12 o'clock at noon, or between the hours of 2 and 3 o'clock in the day, whichever may be most convenient to you, and that you will be so good as to bring with you a memorandum of the average number of packages of lymph issued by the Cow-pock Institution each year, and also a specimen of the manner in which the records of the distribution of the lymph are kept, and the names and addresses of the contributors of lymph with the scale of their remuneration.

By order of the Board,

No. 8.—Letter from the Local Government Board to the Secretary of the Cow-pock Institution.

Local Government Board, Dublin,
27th February, 1877.

Sir,

With reference to previous correspondence, the Local Government Board for Ireland desire to inform you that, as the time appointed for the transfer of the functions of the Cow-pock Institution to the Local Government Board is now approaching, it is desirable to arrange with you and your assistants your and their respective duties under the new system.

The more important features in the course at present contemplated by the Local Government Board are the following:—

I. The collection of the lymph in tubes only.

II. A microscopical examination of the lymph in each tube previously to approval and acceptance.

III. A complete record of the source from which the supply is received, so that, in the event of any complaint being made of the quality, a thorough investigation may be made into the grounds thereof.

IV. A similar record of distribution.

In addition to the sources of supply now in operation, it is thought desirable that certain selected Dispensary Officers in the country should be permitted to supply charged tubes with a fixed remuneration for each tube which has been approved and accepted after examination.

The Board have already received proposals from eleven Dispensary Medical Officers to act as Collectors of lymph in their respective districts. The remuneration given in England for each charged tube is 6*d*.

You will kindly consult with your assistants, and afterwards place before the Local Government Board your views of the distribution of duty involved in the above processes between yourself and your assistants.

By order of the Board,

W. D. Wodsworth,

Assistant Secretary.

To Edward B. Sinclair, esq., M.D., &c., &c.,
Cow-pock Institution, 45, Upper Sackville-street.

No. 9.—Letter from the Secretary to the Cow-Pock Institution to the Local Government Board.

Gentlemen, March 12th, 1877.

With reference to your communication No. 1,832, 27th February last, I have the honour of forwarding to you the following reply :—

With regard to the duties of myself and assistants, I have to state that we are at your disposal to perform whatever duties it may seem fitting to you to arrange for us.

As I am asked, however, for a specific statement it is my duty to make one. As for myself I shall be answerable for all correspondence, the issue of lymph, the accounts of the Institution, the superintendence of the vaccinations, the microscopic investigation of lymph, together with the records of receipts and distribution of the vaccine, aided, of course, when necessary, by the assistants.

The assistants, besides, shall be responsible for the vaccinations and collection of lymph at the Institution and its branches, and the records of vaccinations; they will also fill the certificates and forward them to the registrars. One shall be always present during office hours (such as you may direct), to receive orders, issue lymph and record the same.

With regard to query No. 1—"The collection of the lymph in tubes only"?

Of course if it be your intention to collect lymph in tubes only, it must be done; but, if I may be permitted to offer an opinion, I would suggest the propriety of preserving some lymph on points. Many of our correspondents have a predilection for points; at the same time I am certain that the vaccinations from lymph preserved in tubes is likely to be more successful, provided they are properly used. Confining your collection altogether to tubes will be very expensive, and consideration must be had to the amount of the grant. Taking this into consideration, I would suggest that all the lymph of the Institution and its branches should be collected in tubes, and that our collectors, for the present, should send us nothing but points. This mode would be less expensive, would insure a perfect purity and security of the lymph in tubes. In time the tube system could be extended. From upwards of twenty-five years experience as a practical vaccinator, during which period I must have vaccinated upwards of 30,000 persons, I have perfect faith in a recently-loaded point, when in the hand of a good operator.

Query No. 2—"A microscopic examination of the lymph in each tube previously to approval and acceptance"?

There is no difficulty whatever in fulfilling this requirement. I have, since the receipt of your letter, made experiments, which have proved that blood corpuscles and pus can be easily distinguished in the tube when the latter is placed on the stage of the microscope.

Query No. 3—"A complete record of the source from which the supply is received, so that in the event of any complaint being made of the quality, a thorough investigation may be made into the grounds thereof"?

This was, at first, to me, a most difficult question, but upon mature consideration I am now convinced it can be carried out without much difficulty.

Each collector should have a "source register" exclusively for this Institution, somewhat in the following form.

[Form.

_____ Dispensary District.

No. of Source.	Name of Source.		No. of Tubes or Points taken.	When taken.	When forwarded.
	Name.	Address.
361	Jane Ellis, .	Ballyhooley, .	3 Tubes or 8 Points.	March 10, '77,	March 11, '77.

Each vaccinator should carefully set apart the tubes from each source, and having placed it or them in the box, should affix a gummed label on the box—

No. 361.
_____ Dispensary District.

With respect to points, each vaccinator should be provided with letter paper envelopes of this pattern :—

No. 361.
_____ District.
Dr. Jones.
8 Points.

Only one source lymph in each Box.

Query No. 4—"A similar record of distribution, in addition to the sources of supply now in operation"?

Quite easy by the addition of two columns to our old distribution book. Indeed I find now, upon examining the old book, that no alteration is necessary as regards its form. The beneath is a fac-simile :—

Month.	Day.	Name.	Residence.	Source of Infection.	State of Infection.	No. of Tubes or Points.	Observations.
March,	20	Dr. Jones,	28, Merrion-street.	361, Mallow,	Tubes or points, as case may be.	6 or 2.

I need scarcely say I shall be only too happy to afford any further answers you may require, and

I have the honour to be, gentlemen,
Your obedient humble servant,

Ed. B. Sinclair.

No. 10.—Letter from the Local Government Board to the Secretary of the Cow-pock Institution.

Supply of Vaccine Lymph.

Local Government Board, Dublin.

Sir, 23rd March, 1877.

The Local Government Board for Ireland have received, with much satisfaction, your letter of the 12th instant, in reply to their letter of the 27th February, on the subject of the arrangements for supplying vaccine lymph, and they rely confidently on your assurance of your desire and your ability, with the aid of your present assistants, to carry out the objects mentioned in that letter.

It seems, however, to the Local Government Board to be a matter of first importance to collect all lymph in capillary tubes, as they believe is the existing practice in the vaccine department of the Local Government Board in England, so as to have every possible security, through the medium of microscopical examination, that no lymph except such as is faultless, so far as can be ascertained by inspection, should be put in circulation.

This change will probably have the effect of disturbing a part of the existing arrangements for the collection of lymph, as many of the gentlemen who have been accustomed to collect it at 3*s.* per dozen on ivory points, may not be desirous of continuing as collectors in capillary tubes alone, at the rate of 6*d.* for each well-filled tube containing unexceptionable lymph.

Notice of the intended change should be at once given to the gentlemen now employed in collection other than those on the staff of the Institution, so that it may be ascertained at once whether they desire to continue their services.

Enclosed is the draft of a circular* which it is intended immediately to issue, inviting supplies of lymph from Dispensary Medical Officers who are accustomed to the use of tubes for collecting and preserving their own supply, which will probably have the effect of bringing in a large number of tenders, and from these a sufficient number of permanent collectors may be obtained.

To the distribution of the lymph on ivory points when desired by parties applying for a supply, there is no serious objection felt; but it will be obviously less trouble to the department to distribute the tubes themselves, which have been accepted, instead of placing their contents on points.

The forms of registers both for the department itself and for use by the collectors, the Local Government Board willingly leave in your hands, and in preparing them for approval you will receive every assistance the Board may be able to supply.

B. Banks, Secretary.

No. 11.—Letter from the Local Government Board to the Under Secretary to the Lord Lieutenant.

Local Government Board, Dublin,
Sir, 29th March, 1877.

With reference to Mr. Robinson's letter of the 28th November last, and to previous correspondence, relative to the gratuitous supply of vaccine lymph to workhouses and dispensaries in Ireland, the Local Government Board for Ireland forward to you herewith, for the information of His Grace the Lord Lieutenant, a copy of the correspondence which they have since had with Dr. Sinclair, the Secretary of the Dublin Cow-pock Institution, on the subject of the existing arrangements for the collection and distribution of lymph by that institution, and the arrangements to be made on the transfer of the duties to this Board.

The Board have instructed their solicitors to take the necessary steps for the transfer of the premises belonging to the institution.

INSTRUCTIONAL CIRCULARS, &c., UNDER THE LOCAL GOVERNMENT ACTS AND THE PUBLIC HEALTH ACT.

I.—CIRCULARS.

No. 1.—Filth Removal.

Local Government Board, Dublin,
Sir, 20th March, 1877.

The Local Government Board for Ireland desire to recall the attention of the sanitary authority to their circular of the 9th August, 1875,* and the subsequent memoranda thereon, relating to the various modes of filth removal practised in the towns of England, as reported on by medical officers and medical inspectors of the Local Government Board for England.

A further report, entitled "Modes of Treating Town Sewage," has recently been issued by the English Local Government Board, showing the results of further inquiry made by a committee appointed on the 19th June, 1875.

Fifty copies of this report are all which have been placed at the disposal of this department, but the subject is so important and so interesting to the sanitary authorities in Ireland that the Local Government Board place before them without delay the "Conclusions" announced by the Committee as those which they have adopted.

* See Report for 1876, p. 53.

Conclusions.

1. That the scavenging, sewering, and cleansing of towns are necessary for comfort and health; and that in all cases, these operations involve questions of how to remove the refuse of towns in the safest manner and at the least expense to the ratepayer.
2. That the retention for any lengthened period of refuse and excreta in privy-cesspits or in cesspools, or at stables, cow-sheds, slaughter-houses, or other places in the midst of towns, must be utterly condemned; and that none of the (so-called) dry-earth or pail-systems, or improved privies can be approved, other than as palliatives for cesspit-middens, because the excreta is liable to be a nuisance during the period of its retention, and a cause of nuisance in its removal; and, moreover, when removed leaves the crude-sewage, unless otherwise dealt with by filtration through land, to pollute any watercourse or river into which such sewage may flow. We have no desire, however, to condemn the dry earth or pail systems for detached houses, or for public institutions in the country, or for villages, provided the system adopted is carefully carried out.
3. That the sewering of towns and the draining of houses must be considered a prime necessity under all conditions and circumstances, so that the sub-soil water may be lowered in wet districts, and may be preserved from pollution, and that waste-water may be removed from houses without delay; and, that the surfaces and channels of streets, yards, and courts may be preserved clean.
4. That most rivers and streams are polluted by a discharge into them of crude sewage, which practice is highly objectionable.
5. That, as far as we have been able to ascertain, none of the existing modes of treating town sewage by deposition and by chemicals in tanks appear to affect much change beyond the separation of the solids, and the clarification of the liquid. That the treatment of sewage in this manner, however, effects a considerable improvement, and, when carried to its greatest perfection, may in some cases be accepted.
6. That, so far as our examinations extend, none of the manufactured manures made by manipulating town's refuse, with or without chemicals, pay the contingent costs of such modes of treatment; neither has any mode of dealing separately with excreta, so as to defray the cost of collection and preparation by a sale of the manure, been brought under our notice.
7. That town sewage can best and most cheaply be disposed of and purified by the process of land irrigation for agricultural purposes, where local conditions are favourable to its application, but that the chemical value of sewage is greatly reduced to the farmer by the fact that it must be disposed of day-by-day throughout the entire year, and that its volume is generally greatest when it is of the least service to the land.
8. That land irrigation is not practicable in all cases; and, therefore, other modes of dealing with sewage must be allowed.
9. That towns situate on the sea-coast or on tidal estuaries may be allowed to turn sewage into the sea or estuary, below the line of low water, provided no nuisance is caused; and, that such mode of getting rid of sewage may be allowed and justified on the score of economy.

Robert Rawlinson.
Clare Sewell Read.

S. J. Smith, Assistant,
21st July, 1876.

This report is full of valuable information, but the conclusions above cited are chiefly of a negative character, and no plan of town sewage disposal appears to be mentioned with absolute approval except that of "irrigation for agricultural purposes, where local conditions are favourable to its application." It is further observed that "land irrigation is not practicable in all cases, and, therefore, other modes of dealing with sewage must be allowed."

In this report the pail-closet system is not recommended for adoption in large towns, but by what other mode of domestic scavenging the sanitary authorities can best relieve the dwellings of the population, subject to their control, of the excreta and dry refuse, remains a question not yet solved by authority.

The "Artizans Dwellings Act," which is applicable to towns in Ireland containing more than 25,000 inhabitants, and which is already receiving practical attention at Dublin and Belfast, renders the question of the best mode of filth removal from densely populated districts likely to fall within the operations of that Act, a question of immediate and pressing importance, since the structural character of the new dwellings to be supplied to the poorer classes must depend, in at least one most material particular, on the general system of domestic scavenging which the urban sanitary authority may determine to adopt.

Were the water-closet system adaptable to the dwellings of the humbler classes, as for many obvious reasons it is not, excrement removal might, where tidal waters are available without nuisance, be carried to the deep sea by a system of drains and sewers, and there disposed of.

But there remains a large and varied mass of refuse in large towns which could not be so removed, and which ought to be taken in hand by the urban authority.

By personal inquiries recently made at Manchester it is found that the Corporation of that great city still adheres to the process of filth removal by the commonly called Rochdale or pail-closet system, that is to say, a privy provided for the separate reception and removal, firstly, of excreta, and, secondly, of all descriptions of dry rubbish which find their way into the common ash-pit.

This is done by substituting the pail-closet for the midden-stead, of which last there were no less than 38,000 in 1869. At the present time there are 25,000 pail-closets, 19,000 midden-steads still remaining; which number is being reduced at the rate of 5,000 per annum.

The city of Manchester contains a population of 350,000 and a week's collection from the existing pail-closets presents the following variety of materials in the proportions named, viz., 1,200 tons of fæces and fine ashes, 1,344 tons of cinders, 90 tons of vegetable refuse, 80 tons of broken pots, bottles and glasses, 33 tons of meat tins and old tin and iron, 3 tons of rags, 2 tons of dead animals (as dogs, cats, &c.), and 1 ton of paper.

To collect into one depot (covering two acres in extent) these various kinds of refuse, and to separate and treat them for the purpose of utilization and sale, a great amount of labour and a large amount of machinery is in constant employment at a considerable cost to the ratepayers; but, on the other hand, the crude manure has a ready sale, although at a low price to the farmers in the adjoining counties, and is carried away by boat. The utilized products it is admitted, do not go far at present in reducing the cost of removal, but the one thing aimed at is the removal of all this filth and rubbish from the midst of the population, and this object is fast approaching complete accomplishment at Manchester. Already the death rate from zymotic disease generally has been reduced (in round numbers) from 7 to 3 per 1,000 since the system commenced in 1868, and the death rate from the two diseases, typhus and typhoid, from 2 per 1,000 to $\frac{1}{2}$ per 1,000 annually.

These details are stated in order that any Irish sanitary authority which may be disposed to adopt the pail-closet system may understand the nature of the task before it, which is, in fact, to close up all midden-steads and cess-pools connected with inhabited dwellings, and to substitute for them the pail-closet with its double contrivance, and to provide the same convenience in the numerous cases in which there may be at present not even a midden-stead or privy of any description whatever. If this be undertaken it must be done thoroughly, otherwise there can be no effectual system of domestic scavenging established such as the existing law contemplates. See 39th section of the "Public Health (Ireland) Act, 1874."

In very large towns, as already observed, the adoption of some uniform system of domestic scavenging, to be carried out in the future, with ample means for removal and disposal of what is collected, ought to be preliminary to the commencement of building operations under the "Artizans Dwellings Act."

No. 2.—Filth Removal.

Local Government Board, Dublin,
Sir, 21st April, 1877.

Adverting to their Circular Letters of 9th August, 1875, and 20th March, 1877, relative to the various modes of filth removal which are there presented to notice as being in operation in Great Britain and on the Continent, the Local Government Board for Ireland consider that the time has now arrived when some opinion may be usefully pronounced by them as to the nature of the provision which a Sanitary Authority in Ireland should make for the systematic removal, at regular short intervals, of filth from dwellings occupied by the poorer classes of inhabitants in towns and villages.

The existence of midden-steads and cess-pools, the contents of which are allowed to accumulate for a considerable time before removal, if they are removed at all, and thus to soak into the surrounding soil and into the well-water, or to go into a process of fermentation above ground, are admitted on all hands to be incompatible with either of the two great sanitary requisites—the enjoyment of pure air and the enjoyment of pure water; but in many populated places a still worse state of things than that attendant on midden-steads and cess-pools exists, that is to say, an absence of all conveniences whatever, compelling the accumulation of deposits in back-yards or cellars beneath the houses, or the throwing of such refuse into the streets, lanes, courts, and alleys adjoining, to the great detriment of the public health.

The administration of the laws for the removal of nuisances affords only a temporary alleviation of such evils, and is a permanent source of trouble and expense as requiring a repetition of the proceedings from time to time; and that which is really wanted for the abatement of nuisances of this description is a permanent preventive arrangement, which should provide both for the reception and removal at short intervals not only of excrementitious filth but of every kind of rubbish, including ashes, cinders, vegetable refuse, rags, &c.

The practical remedy is foreshadowed, rather than defined, in the 39th Section of the Public Health (Ireland) Act, 1874, adopted from a similar provision in England, which has since been materially amended in the English Public Health Act of 1875; and this Admendment has been carried into the Public Health Bill for Ireland now under consideration in Parliament.

The peculiar remedy alluded to is the adoption by the Sanitary Authority of some general system of filth removal by means of privies and ashpits, without which it seems to be intended by the Legislature that no dwellings should hereafter continue to be inhabited by human beings; and when such conveniences have been generally provided in the locality, a further provision of the law secures the removal of all filth and rubbish from them periodically by the Sanitary Authority itself.

The previously existing powers of the Sanitary Authority to compel the construction of privy accommodation by the owners of dwellings, and in default thereof a power of constructing by the Authority itself at the expense of the owner, have recently been supplemented by the enactment of the Artizans Dwellings Act, under which when a space now covered by dwellings, declared unfit for habitation, has been cleared by the Sanitary Authority, the latter has power to secure proper sanitary conveniences in every new dwelling constructed on the area so cleared. In the plans which have been submitted under the provisions of this Act to the approval of the Local Government Board by the Corporations of Dublin and Belfast due arrangements have been made for securing proper sanitary conveniences for the occupiers of any new dwellings which may be constructed.

The Local Government Board having maturely considered the information before them, are now prepared to express their opinion that the pail system, first adopted at Rochdale, and afterwards at Manchester and Salford and other towns in England, is the system most generally suitable both to towns and villages in Ireland, and earnestly invite the attention of both urban and rural Sanitary Authorities to the subject. That system is in noway calculated to interfere with the drainage and sewerage of towns, which must be carried on independently, so as to afford a free exit to the waste water from dwellings, the fluid filth of the streets, the storm water, and the under drainage of the soil.

Among the advantages of the pail closet and ash-tub system is the facility with which it can gradually be applied to remedy the absence of proper privy accommodation, and the small cost of the utensils required, the structural expenses being assumed to be borne by the owner; neither need it be extended so far as to interfere with other modes of removal which may be found more suitable to particular portions of the same sanitary district.

On the establishment of a pail system, however, the task of removal must be accepted by the Sanitary Authority itself, and not left to the discretion of the occupiers of the dwellings, and this constitutes the main source of expenditure from the rates.

Rural authorities would probably find this part of the operation of the system very simple and comparatively inexpensive, with the further advantage of the manure being capable of being applied to the soil in the immediate vicinity of the dwellings; but in populous urban districts the operation of the system is more complicated, and the disposal of the manure to advantage not so easy to be effected.

In the blue-books, circulars, and memoranda already in possession of the Sanitary Authorities of Ireland, the operations of all known systems of filth removal, including the pneumatic system, will be found to be given in detail; and examples of the working of the pail system, are brought down to the close of the year 1876 in the "Reports of Progress" at Manchester and Rochdale.

The Local Government Board are enabled at this time to state that under the Public Health Act, 1874, the progress of Sanitary Reform in Ireland during the time which has since elapsed has been eminently satisfactory, as evidenced by the large extent of loans applied for by Sanitary Authorities for the construction of permanent works for sewerage and water supply, in addition to much expenditure for the same purposes from the current rates, and likewise by the large number of cases in which Sealed Orders have already been issued by the Local Government Board fixing the areas of charge in rural districts.

The third and equally important branch of sanitation, the removal of nuisances, has also been pursued, and is still pursued with much energy by most of the Sanitary Authorities; but the action of permanent preventive measures in this branch of sanitation is evidently still wanting and impossible to attain without proper sanitary arrangements being first provided; and the attention of all Sanitary Authorities in Ireland is hereby called to the subject.

By order of the Board,

B. Banks, Secretary.

II.—Extracts from the Registrar-General's Reports on the Quarterly Returns from the Registrars and Sanitary Officers.

Quarter ended September, 1874.

The sanitary improvements in certain districts have been considerable, and followed by the most satisfactory results. For instance, the Registrar of Lisburn, who has so repeatedly animadverted on the wretched sanitary condition of his district, reports as follows:—

"I am happy to observe there is a very marked improvement already in the sanitary state of Lisburn and its vicinity, though but a very short time under the Towns Improvement Act.

"I am glad to say that, on inquiry, I find there are not at present any cases of either fever, small-pox, or other infectious diseases in Lisburn Workhouse."

At the same time, it must be borne in mind that the enforcement of sanitary reforms is surrounded with the greatest difficulties, and must take considerable time in its accomplishment.

Quarter ended December, 1874.

Some of the Registrars refer to the improved sanitary condition of their districts, and in several instances this improvement has been ascribed to the successful working of the new Sanitary Act.

Quarter ended March, 1875.

There have been considerable improvements effected in the sanitary condition of some districts from which complaints on former occasions were received.

The Registrar of Jamestown District, Carrick-on-Shannon Union, says :—

"We are slowly, but I hope surely, making some progress in sanitary improvements. Some prosecutions have taken place, and with good effect."

The Registrar of Ballymoney reports as follows :—

"The sanitary condition of the district, which is generally satisfactory, has been strictly looked after, many instances of nuisances being reported to the Board of Guardians."

Improvements in sanitary arrangements have been carried out in Warrenpoint, Clonmel, &c.

Quarter ended June, 1875.

In some districts the provisions of the Sanitary Act are stated to have been thoroughly carried out, and with the happiest results.

The Registrar of Emly (Tipperary Union), who frequently reported on the unsanitary condition of his district, states that—

"The effects of the Sanitary Act are gradually becoming apparent in my district; I say so advisedly, for to say that the Sanitary Act was working well in the strict sense of the word would be an inaccuracy, since in no single case have I, as yet, found it necessary to institute proceedings against parties violating that Act. In truth, I find that in order to have most nuisances abated, it is only necessary to direct the attention of the farmer or cottager, as the case may be, to the nuisance, and ask him, in a quiet unobtrusive manner, to have it removed; remonstrating with him resolutely, but respectfully, and reminding him, when necessary, of that power which the law vests in the medical man indirectly, and the pains and penalties to which defaulters under the Act are liable."

Several other Registrars bear similar testimony.

Quarter ended September, 1875.

In many instances the Registrars report favourably as to the working of the Sanitary Act, and the resulting benefit to the health of the inhabitants.

A few examples from the Registrars' Reports showing how satisfactorily the Sanitary Act is working may be now referred to.

The Registrar of the Dervock District, Ballymoney Union, sends the following report :—

"During the past quarter great improvements have been made in the sanitary arrangements of this village. Where manure heaps were adjacent to the dwellings they have been removed to a distance, and the sinks properly filled up with earth and stones. New drains are in process of construction. A new pump is being made at considerable expense which it is hoped will give an ample supply of pure water. Previously the well was uncovered and open to various sources of contamination. The health of the district is good, no epidemic has made its appearance."

The Registrar of Swords, Balrothery Union, who on many previous occasions animadverted on the deficient sanitary arrangements in his district makes the following encouraging Report :—

"The Sanitary Act is being worked with decidedly advantageous results, the people offering no opposition whatsoever to render ready compliance with the mandatory orders of the Sanitary Board."

The Registrar of Waringstown District, Lurgan Union, states that :—

"There have been some seventy notices served under the Sanitary Act during the last year, relating principally to cess-pools and dung-pits being too close to the dwelling-houses of the weavers and labourers of the district, and in no instance was it necessary to resort to legal proceedings to have a nuisance abated."

The Registrar of Kells (county Meath), says:—

"The provisions of the Sanitary Act are being gradually and effectively brought into operation with very good results. We are entirely free from epidemic or infectious disease."

The Registrar of Frenchpark, Castlerea Union, reports as follows:—

"The sanitary condition of this district is satisfactory;" and adds:—"It is most gratifying to see how desirous the people in the rural districts are to comply with the necessary sanitary arrangements."

One more illustration of the successful operation of the Sanitary Act may suffice; it is afforded in the following Report from the Registrar of the Kilbrittain District of the Bandon Union:—

"With regard to sanitary work I have only to remark, that I find persons very willing to carry out any recommendations I make. As soon as parties are advised of the existence of a nuisance, they remove it immediately, so that I find it unnecessary to ask the Guardians to act in the matter."

Quarter ended December, 1875.

Although in some places the executive officers experience considerable difficulty in carrying out the provisions of the Public Health Act, the people generally are becoming sensible of the advantages of hygienic measures which have heretofore been sadly neglected, and their co-operation is easily secured.

Quarter ended March, 1876.

With reference to the working of the Public Health Act it must be stated that although in some districts very decided improvements have been effected, still the notes furnished by the Registrars afford ample proof, that in many instances, in which there is but too much scope for their application, the salutary provisions of that Act are not enforced.

Quarter ended June, 1876.

The state of the public health during the past quarter may be considered satisfactory. There has been a considerable diminution (764) in the number of deaths from the principal zymotic or so-called preventable diseases, compared with the corresponding quarter of last year, and this decrease may, to some extent, be attributed to the improvement in the sanitary condition of the country.

Of the thirty Registrars who have furnished Reports as to the sanitary condition of their several districts, twenty have reported favourably, and have also testified to the benefits resulting from the successful working of the provisions of the Sanitary Act.

Reference to a few of the favourable Reports may be advantageous.

For example, the Registrar of Clogh district, Ballymena Union, says:—

"I very seldom need to report any sanitary cases; I have merely to let the people know, and the nuisance is removed, sooner than the Board could have them noticed."

In Stewartstown, Cookstown Union, since the sanitary condition of the town has been improved, a new pump erected, &c., fever, which had always been present, has completely disappeared.

The Registrar of Clonmel district says that :—

"No cases of zymotic disease were registered during the quarter, and this happy state of affairs I am inclined to attribute to sanitary progress."

The Registrar of Kilmacthomas district states :—

"Sanitary reform is extending here, the village has been well supplied with pure water. The Lodger Act, under which the village is now placed, is beginning to check overcrowding and promote domestic cleanliness in many houses which much required it."

Quarter ended September, 1876.

The total deaths registered are under the average for the third quarter; and although there were some severe local outbreaks of two or three zymotic diseases, these were, in most cases, confined to very limited areas, and there was no general prevalence of any fatal disease of this class.

That this decline in the fatality of controllable diseases is due, in part, to improvements in the sanitary state of various districts, is fully shown by the remarks contained in the notes furnished by the respective Registrars.

Quarter ended December, 1876.

The state of the public health during the quarter may be regarded as satisfactory. The total mortality was considerably under the average for the December quarter, and deaths from preventable diseases show a gratifying diminution compared with the fourth quarter of previous years.

Upwards of 100 Registrars report sanitary improvements in their respective districts, and many are able to record the good effects resulting therefrom.

Quarter ended March, 1877.

The Registrars' notes contain several references to sanitary improvements, and to the happy effects resulting therefrom ; but the complaints from the registrars of districts in which the sanitary arrangements are very defective largely preponderate. In some cases the fault is attributed to the apathy of the local authorities, in others to the disinclination of the people to make any changes ; but it must be added that in many instances the registrars despair of effecting any lasting improvement so long as the poor are constrained to occupy the wretched cabins that at present constitute the dwellings of the labouring class in many of the rural parts of Ireland.

The following notes indicate some of the defects that require a remedy :—

The Registrar of Downpatrick District* observes :—

"The water supply of this town is in a very bad state—in fact it would not be sufficient to supply one-third of the inhabitants, and nearly all the wells and pumps have been condemned. The sewerage and houses of the working class could not be worse. I am constantly reporting the state of the town, but no move has been taken to remedy the sanitary arrangements in this district."

* Downpatrick.—The subject of improvement of the water supply is under the consideration of the sanitary authority.

The Registrar of Limavady* District refers to the presence of a mild type of scarlatina, and adds :—

"It is entirely confined to the families of the poorer classes, owing, perhaps, to the facts that they are compelled to live in cabins which would not be good enough for domestic animals, and that they have an utter disregard for personal cleanliness."

The Registrar of Carlingford District, Dundalk Union, says that :—

"The sanitary state of the district is improving as much as the state of some of the houses will allow. Many of them in Whitestown have no yard, consequently the occupiers must keep the manure in front and pigs in their houses some of them under the beds. I have caused many to be removed."

Scarlet fever has disappeared from Kells District, where it had been prevalent for some time; but the Registrar considers that :—

"The sanitary condition cannot be otherwise than bad while the poorer classes of labourers are huddled together in wretched tenement houses and one-roomed cottages, which at present constitute their only available shelter."

The only reason the Registrar of Belfast† No. 2 District can assign for the occurrence of fever of a bad type is—

"That several localities exist whose sanitary condition is essentially bad—places, indeed, which might be expected to be never long free from fever. These places are so radically bad in their construction that it is almost impossible for the sanitary officer to suggest any remedy short of closing up or throwing down whole rows of houses. Cleaning and fumigating does not avail much against low ceilings, small windows which do not open, small rooms with many occupants, and damp, mouldy walls, together with the neglect of the simplest rules of health by the inhabitants."

The Registrar of Street District, Granard Union,‡ remarks :—

"The sanitary arrangements of the district generally are pretty fair, excepting the town of Edgeworthstown. Here the drainage and sewerage are most defective. I have over and over again drawn the attention of the sanitary authority to this matter, but scarcely anything has been done. One sewer through a narrow street called Chapel-lane, carrying most of the sewage of the town, being uncovered, the typhoid-generating gas, of course, being unconfined, is highly prejudicial to public health. I have also directed attention to other sewers and reservoirs of filth, but without effect."

The Registrar of Roscommon District§ writes :—

"The sanitary condition of this district is in a most deplorable state. Although repeated reports have been made to the committee, nothing has been done to remedy the evil. We require good water, and a proper system of sewerage properly carried out."

The Registrar of Kilmackevoge District, Waterford Union,‖ remarks :—

* Limavady Town.—Area of charge for supply of water declared 21st June, 1876; and Provisional Order to put in force the provisions of the Lands Clauses Acts issued 14th May, 1877.

† Belfast Town.—Provisional Order under Artisans and Labourers' Dwellings Improvement Act, 1875, issued 11th May, 1877.

‡ Granard Union, Edgeworthstown.—The sanitary officer's recommendations to the sanitary authority appear to have been since carried out.

§ Roscommon Town.—Area of charge for supply of water and for sewerage declared 15th May, 1876.

‖ Waterford Union, Kilmackevoge District.—Fever cases had occurred in the district in the previous quarter also, and the Sanitary Officer reported to the Local Government Board on the 16th April, 1877, that "the fever did not appear to originate through defect of sanitation in this district, but travelled out from Waterford;" and he added that "all things had been done to check it."

"Fever was prevalent during the quarter. Until the Legislature renders it incumbent that suitable dwellings for the labouring class should be erected, it will be hard to expect sanitary reform, inasmuch as the cottiers herd together in small, miserable, ill-ventilated cabins, with obvious results."

The Registrar of Kildorrery District, Mitchelstown Union,* observes :—

"The village of Kildorrery is in a bad way for want of a supply of fresh water. I have reported the state of the case on two occasions to the Board of Guardians, but no action has been taken up to this."

The Registrar of Newcastle District (Limerick County) observes :—

"Parts of the town are in a very filthy state, dangerous to the health of the inhabitants; sanitary arrangements very bad."

As contrasts to the above examples, the following may be cited :—
Thus the Registrar of Listowel District remarks :—

"District particularly healthy during the quarter. There has been no epidemic of any kind. Health of the people in a most satisfactory state. Water supply to the town plentiful, and sanitary reports receive the prompt attention of the Guardians."

The Registrar of Valencia District, Caherciveen Union, says that :—

"The sanitary state of this district is good, thanks to the vigilance of the sanitary authority, who, at the last sessions, prosecuted six householders for allowing cesspools in front of their dwellings, some of whom were fined 5*s.* each and costs, with a caution to abate the nuisance, which was immediately done."

The Registrar of Carrigaline District, Cork Union, observes that :—

"The town and district are in a healthy condition; sanitary arrangements are being carried out; a good deal has been done; the sewers have in many parts of the town been opened and cleaned out; different new-piped sewers have been laid down, and branch sewers from the houses made into them; also a main sewer has been made in Monkstown, which will be a great improvement to the place."

* Mitchelstown Union, Kildorrery District.—There was one report from the sanitary officer as to a well, and his suggestions were ordered to be carried out.

TABULAR RETURNS IN CONNEXION WITH RELIEF UNDER THE MEDICAL CHARITIES ACT.

[Note.—In this series of Tables, the Unions are classed in the Counties and Provinces in which the chief or central place of the respective Unions is situate; but many of the Unions comprise parts of more than one County or Province. The total of Population and Area of the Unions in the respective Counties and Provinces, as arranged in these Tables, will not, therefore, agree with the summaries of those Counties and Provinces in the Census Returns. An Alphabetical Index List of the Dispensary Districts is annexed (No. 6), showing the name of the Union in which each District is situate, and referring to the table and page in which the particulars relating to each District are to be found.]

THIRTY-SECOND ANNUAL REPORT

TO THE

RIGHT HON. RICHARD ASSHETON CROSS

HER MAJESTY'S PRINCIPAL SECRETARY OF STATE FOR THE HOME DEPARTMENT

BOARD OF SUPERVISION FOR THE RELIEF OF THE POOR AND OF PUBLIC HEALTH IN SCOTLAND CHAMBERS, GEORGE STREET, EDINBURGH

August 1877.

SIR,

WE have the honour to submit the General Report of our proceedings for the past year.

POOR LAW.

Since the date of our last Report, the General Superintendents of Poor have continued to discharge their duties within their respective districts to our entire satisfaction. Mr Peterkin has visited and inquired into the administration of the law in 153 Parishes in the Counties of Aberdeen, Caithness, Elgin, Inverness, Orkney and Shetland, Ross and Cromarty, Banff, Sutherland, and Nairn. He has also inspected 7 Poorhouses. Mr Campbell has visited 148 Parishes in the Counties of Aberdeen, Argyll, Bute, Dumbarton, Forfar, Kincardine, Lanark, and Perth, and conducted 9 special inquiries. He has also inspected 7 Poorhouses. We have received from these gentlemen their General Half-yearly Reports upon the administration of the law within their respective districts, as well as special Parochial Reports from time to time, wherever circumstances appeared to require them, and we have continued to deal with these Reports in the same manner as with those of former years. We print in the Appendix the latest General Half-yearly Reports by these officers, which have been furnished to us during the past year.

Proceedings of Board.

App. (A.) Nos. 1, 2.

During the past year, Mr M'Neill, the Visiting Officer of the Board, has conducted 19 special investigations, inspected and reported upon 58 Poorhouses, and conducted 2 special Poorhouse inquiries. He has also visited and inquired into the administration of the law in 194 Parishes. We continue to have every reason to be satisfied with the zeal and ability with which the Visiting Officer performs his duties. There will be found in the Appendix his latest General Half-yearly Report during the past year.

We have investigated allegations, involving charges more or less serious, against 17 Inspectors of Poor; and we have been under the necessity of dismissing two of these officers for neglect or failure to perform their duties. Four Inspectors, whose conduct was under investigation, were permitted by us to resign their offices. We censured or admonished five Inspectors, whose errors were not of so grave a character as to call for more serious punishment; and we suspended one Inspector from office until his accounts, which were found to be in disorder, had been audited. We have had the satisfaction of acquitting five Inspectors of the charges which were brought against them.

We have been called upon to investigate complaints against three Governors of Poorhouses. In one instance we found the complaint groundless; but we found it necessary to censure one governor; and in the case of the third, we felt compelled to intimate to the Parochial Board that he could no longer be permitted to retain his office.

During the past year we have been called on to investigate charges against three Medical Officers. In each of these cases we were under the necessity of censuring the officer for failing properly to discharge his duty.

Assessments. App. (B.) No. 21.

Since the date of our last Report, one Parish which had previously raised the funds for relief of the poor by Voluntary Contributions has resolved to raise those funds by Assessment. The number of Parishes now assessed is 818, and the number that still raise the funds by Voluntary Contributions is 68.

The progress of the change from Voluntary Contributions to Assessment, during the thirty-two years that have elapsed since this Board was formed, has been as follows:—

In 609 of the Assessed Parishes, the funds for the relief of the poor are raised by an equal rate upon owners and occupants respectively, and in 189 there is a classification of occupants in terms of the 36th section of the Act 8 & 9 Vict. c. 83. In 20 Parishes, the assessment is still levied according to Established Usage.

Elected Members.

We have increased the number of Members to be elected to the Parochial Board of Dumbarton from 9 to 11, to the Parochial Board of Kinloss from 2 to 3, and to the Parochial Board of Selkirk from 4 to 7. For the Parish of Kirkmichael (Ayrshire) we have fixed the number to be elected at 3; and for the Parish of Maryton we have fixed the number at 1.

In many Parishes we have thought it right, for various reasons, to approve of alterations in the days for the election of Members to the Parochial Boards.

Poor-houses.

The number of Parishes that have Poorhouses, either singly or in combination, is 420, having an aggregate population of 2,448,935. There are 62 Poorhouses at present in operation, the accommodation in which is sufficient for 14,290 inmates. When the Poorhouses which are in progress, or the erection of which has been resolved on, are completed, the number of Parishes having Poorhouses, singly or in combination, will be 435, with an aggregate population of 2,500,448. We have during the past year approved of the rates for boarding paupers belonging to 204 Parishes, in those Poorhouses of other Parishes or Combinations to which it appeared to us that they might most advantageously be sent. We continue the practice, however, of limiting our approval in all such cases to a period of twelve months, as we deem it desirable that we should have a periodical opportunity of considering whether any change of circumstances has arisen to render a further continuance of our approval inexpedient. The number of Parishes that possess a right, in terms of the 65th section of the Statute, to send paupers to the Poorhouses belonging to other Parishes, is 214, with an aggregate population of 494,965; but some of these Parishes are embraced in Combinations for proposed Poorhouses, or propose to have Poorhouses of their own. The total population of the Parishes to which Poorhouse accommodation is thus at present available amounts to 2,943,900. The total population of the Parishes (237 in number) to which Poorhouse accommodation is still not available is 416,118. The Tables showing the number of Poorhouses in operation and in progress, and the Parishes forming the various Poorhouse Combinations in Scotland, are printed in the Appendix. These Tables indicate the number of inmates of Poorhouses as at 1st January and 1st July last; the number who were receiving in-door relief during

App. (B.) No. 15.

Poor Law. Poor-houses.

the half-years ended 31st December 1876 and 30th June 1877; the number of those on the Sick List, as well as those who were Lunatic; and the number of Children who were at School. These Tables also exhibit the average weekly cost per head of inmates actually in the Poorhouse, during the half-years ended 31st December 1876 and 30th June 1877, for maintenance, including food, fuel, clothing, light, and all other necessaries; and the average weekly expenditure per head of inmates for whom there is accommodation in the Poorhouse for the same periods, under the following heads, viz.:—1*st*, Establishment Charges, including salaries of officials, feu-duties, insurance, repairs, etc.; 2*d*, Estimated Rent of Poorhouse and Land, being so much per cent. on the amount expended; and 3*d*, Medical Relief, including medicine, medical and surgical appliances, and medical attendance.

We have approved of resolutions of the Parochial Boards of Dollar, Tillicoultry, and Tulliallan, to join Stirling Poorhouse Combination; of a resolution of the Parochial Board of Glenelg to join Lorn Poorhouse Combination; and of resolutions of the Parochial Boards of Barr, Girvan, and Dailly, to join Maybole Poorhouse Combination, a step which was specially referred to in our Twenty-ninth and two previous Annual Reports. The additional population for which Poorhouse accommodation has thus been permanently acquired during the year is 19,768.

We have approved of plans for a Poorhouse for the Parish of Lanark; of plans for sick wards, and additions to workshops and outhouses in connection with Inveresk Combination Poorhouse; of plan of a refractory cell for Easter Ross Combination Poorhouse; and of plan for a dead-house for the City of Edinburgh Poorhouse at Craiglockhart.

We have also sanctioned alterations in the Poorhouses of Glasgow, Barony, and Greenock, and in the Poorhouse of Old Machar, for the better accommodation of children.

We have expressed our approval of the acquisition of additional ground for poorhouse purposes for the Poorhouse at Falkirk; and we have also sanctioned the erection of parochial offices within the grounds of the Poorhouse at Campbeltown.

The Parochial Board of the Parish of Stornoway having requested us to sanction the boarding of their paupers in Skye Combination Poorhouse, we intimated that we should not feel justified in doing so. We were of opinion that the distance, and the difficulties of intercommunication between Stornoway and Portree, would render an offer of relief to Stornoway paupers in that Poorhouse an unfair, and in some cases a cruel, test. We pointed out to the Parochial Board that the proper and legitimate mode of providing Poorhouse accommodation for their paupers is to erect a Poorhouse at Stornoway in conjunction with the other Parishes of the Lewis.

During the past year we have again used our best endeavours to induce the Parochial Boards in the County of Caithness to place their arrangements for Poorhouse accommodation on a better and more economical footing. The total population of the County (Census 1871) is 41,011. There are two Poorhouses—Thurso Combination, comprising 8 Parishes; and Latheron Combination, comprising 2 Parishes. These two Poorhouses contain accommodation for about 200 inmates. The largest number of inmates in them at any one time during the past five years was 25, the average number of inmates on any one day being under 20. It is obvious, therefore, that the larger of the two houses (that of Thurso Combination), containing accommodation for about 150 inmates, is amply sufficient for the whole County. Moreover, under the present arrangements, two expensive establishments are maintained while one would suffice, and the discipline in houses which are nearly empty is necessarily defective in efficiency as a test. We have urged upon the Parochial Boards the propriety of their coming to an agreement whereby the Latheron Combination Poorhouse might be disposed of as an Asylum or otherwise, and the Thurso Combination Poorhouse be made the Poorhouse for the whole County. But we regret to say that we have not been successful in our endeavours, and we have no power to compel the Parochial Boards to comply with our suggestion. Poor Law.

We again print in the Appendix a tabular statement of the present Poorhouse Buildings Debt, as returned to us by the Parochial Authorities, showing the sums borrowed for the erection or enlargement of Poorhouse Buildings, under the 62d section of the Act 8 & 9 Vict. c. 83, or the 3d section of the Act 19 & 20 Vict. c. 117, the liquidation of the debt during the past year, and the amount of the debt as at 14th May 1877. App. (B.) No. 16.

We have completed the arrangements for the distribution of the 29th Parliamentary Grant of £10,000 in aid of Medical Relief to the Poor in Scotland. The number of Parishes which have this year resolved to comply with the conditions annexed to participation in the Grant is 765. Of these 25 have failed to establish their claims by producing vouchers for the required amount of expenditure from their own funds, and otherwise satisfying us that the conditions of the Grant had been fulfilled. Last year, 732 Parishes established their claims; this year, 740. The detailed account of the distribution, showing the amount expended on Medical Relief afforded to the poor in each Parish, for which vouchers have been produced; the sum apportioned to it from the Grant; and the additional sum proportionate to the excess of its vouched expenditure beyond the minimum, assigned out of the unappropriated shares to each participating Parish, will be found in the Appendix, the total amount distributed being £9989, 5s. 5d. Medical Relief. App. (B.) No 13.

The whole sum expended on Medical Relief to the poor in all Parishes in Scotland, whether participating in the Parliamentary Grant or not, during the year ended 14th May 1877, according to the annual returns of the Inspectors, was £37,402, 1s. 9d., which is equal to 2·67 pence per head of the population of Scotland in 1871. The population of the 765 Parishes that have resolved to comply with the conditions annexed to participation in the Grant is 3,258,232, and of the 121 Parishes that have not so resolved, 101,786. The sum expended by the former, according to the returns, was £36,773, 10s. 6d., equal to about 2·70 pence per head of the population; and that by the latter was £628, 11s. 3d., equal to about 1·48 pence per head of the population of these Parishes.

The third annual audit of the claims to participate in the Parliamentary Grant in aid of the Cost of Maintenance of Pauper Lunatics has been completed, in accordance with the scheme approved by the Treasury, the aggregate amount distributed being £65,470, 1s. Grant for Pauper Lunatics.

Poor Law. Grant for Pauper Lunatics

To each parish which was found entitled to participate, a certificate, signed by one of our officers, was issued, on presenting which to the Queen's Remembrancer in Exchequer the sum apportioned to the parish was paid.

A detailed account of the distribution, showing the Parishes participating, the number of Pauper Lunatics in respect of whom the claims were made, the total cost of their maintenance which was satisfactorily vouched, and the amount paid to each parish from the Grant, will be found in the Appendix.

App. (B.) No. 14.

Audit of Parochial Accounts.

We have received during the past year numerous applications from Parochial Boards and Ratepayers requesting us to audit the Parochial Accounts. These applications in some instances proceeded upon the allegation that illegal disbursements had been authorized by the Parochial Board; in others that the cost of administering the Poor law was extravagant; and in a third class of cases from a distrust of the accuracy of the local audit. Although fully alive to the necessity for an independent and official audit of all Parochial accounts, we were compelled to decline to enter upon any of these inquiries which were pressed upon us. As the law at present stands, we neither have the power to make an efficient audit of local expenditure, nor would our audit (even if made) be authoritative or final. All we can do is to point out and remonstrate against any improper acts of administration that may incidentally be brought under our notice. The only existing remedy for even the most clearly illegal expenditure of the rates is an action at law against the Parochial Board by an individual ratepayer, and it is scarcely necessary to observe that this remedy is too expensive and invidious to be practically available.

App. (A.) No. 4.

The Inspector of Kirkcowan having asked our advice with reference to the case of a female pauper under circumstances which frequently occur, we print the correspondence in the Appendix. The woman in question obstinately refused to accept an offer of maintenance for herself and her children in the Poorhouse, while at the same time she was not a proper object of out-door relief. Her conduct was manifestly detrimental to the interests of the children, and probably endangered their health and lives. The existing law affords no speedy and effectual mode of dealing satisfactorily with such a case, and we refer to the circumstances stated in the Appendix as affording an illustration of a class of cases for which special legislation is desirable in order to save children from abandoned parents. The local administrators of the Poor Law are greatly embarrassed by such cases when they meet with them, and we have no power to render them assistance.

Poor Law.

Complaints of Inadequate Relief.

The number of applications complaining of Inadequate Relief that have been before us during the year ended 30th June 1877 has been 256. In the immediately preceding year, the number was 262.

The subjoined Table exhibits the number of such applications in each year since the Board was formed, and the manner in which they have been disposed of.

Cost of Relief and Management.

App. (B.) Nos. 4 & 5.

The sum expended during the year ended 14th May 1877, for the Relief and Management of the Poor (including £2120, 1s. 10d. expended on Buildings not being authorized Poorhouses, £37,594, 12s. 7d. expended on authorized Poorhouse Buildings, and £12,883, 7s. 2d. on Repairs and Furnishings) has been £858,907, 0s. 3d. In the preceding year, the expenditure for the same purposes was £847,254, 12s. 11d. There has, therefore, been an increase in the Total Expenditure of £11,652, 7s. 4d. But in the Total Expenditure the cost of Lunatics is, of course, included, and there is an increase of expenditure during the past year under that head of no less than £16,045, 7s. 8¾d. There has also been an increase of expenditure on Buildings during the year of £3143, 15s. 11d. Apart, therefore, from the cost of Lunatics and Buildings, there has been a decrease in the expenditure during the past year of £7536, 16s. 3½d.

Poor Law. Cost of Relief and Management.

In estimating the expenditure during the past year upon the actual maintenance of the poor, it is only just to take into account the sum expended on the education of non-pauper children under the 69th section of the Education (Scotland) Act, which provides that the cost of such education shall be defrayed out of the poor rate. During the past year, the sum of £3409, 10s. 2d. has been so expended out of the poor rate, and is included in the above total of £858,907, 0s. 3d. Deducting the cost of non-pauper education, as well as the cost of buildings and lunatics, the total expenditure on the relief and management of the sane poor during the past year was £629,587, 12s. 11¼d., as against £637,916, 14s. 5¼d. in 1875–6, £646,814, 9s. 4¾d. in 1874–5, and £654,001, 11s. 11¼d. in 1873–4, the charge for non-pauper education having commenced in the year last named.

The following Table shows the Expenditure for the Relief and Management of the Poor (exclusive of the cost of buildings, but including every other charge), the rate of expenditure per cent. and per £ of Valuation, and the rate of expenditure per head of Population, for each of the Years from 1846–47 downwards to 1876–77 :—

The cost of maintaining the Lunatic Poor still continues progressively to increase. In 1867 it amounted to £108,172, 14s. 1½d.; in the past year to £173,311, 15s. 6¾d.—showing an increase during the Cost of Lunatic Poor.

Poor Law. Cost of Lunatic Poor.

interval of £65,139, 1s. 5¼d. The cost of maintaining the Lunatic Poor is included in the expenditure, as shown in our Tables and Returns upon Registered and Casual Poor. It is therefore apparent that if there had been no increase in the cost of Lunatic Poor, both the total expenditure and the cost of relief to Registered and Casual Poor would have been considerably less than we have stated above. The cost of maintaining the Lunatic Poor in 1876 was £157,266, 7s. 10d., and there is thus an increase during the past year under this head of £16,045, 7s. 8¾d.

The following Table will show the annual increase of expenditure upon Lunatic Paupers since 1868–69, and how much the total expenditure of each year has been affected by it. If the cost of Lunatics had decreased since 1868–69 in the same proportion as the cost of maintaining the other Poor has diminished since that date, or even if it had remained stationary, the total expenditure would have been materially different:—

Number of Poor.

The number of paupers of all classes, including dependants, in receipt of relief on the 14th May this year, was 100,640, being 2018 fewer than on the same day in the preceding year, and being in the proportion of 2·8 per cent. of the estimated population, instead of 4·1 per cent. in 1868 and 1869. The steady decrease in the number of poor during the last eight years is almost entirely due to more efficient administration. We continue to be of opinion that a still further diminution in the number of paupers might be safely attained, if in all parishes there were a more searching inquiry into the circumstances of applicants, and a more discriminating use of the poorhouse test. As an illustration of what may be effected, we print in the Appendix a letter from the Inspector of West Linton, a small parish in Peeblesshire, with a population of 1387, in which, on the suggestion of our Visiting Officer, the poorhouse test was applied to six out-door paupers, and in every instance declined.

App. (A.) No. 5.

The following Table exhibits the number of Paupers of all classes in receipt of relief for each of the Years from 1859–60 downwards to 1876–77, the ratio per cent. of persons in receipt of Parochial Relief to population, and the average Annual Cost of each individual and of each Registered Pauper to the Parish:— Poor Law. The sums stated in the last column of the preceding Table include the expenditure on Pauper Lunatics. Excluding from the calculation for the past year the Pauper Lunatics as at 14th May, and their cost during the year, the average annual sum expended on the maintenance of each registered ordinary pauper at 14th May 1877 was £8, 6s. 11¼d. The average annual cost of each Pauper Lunatic on the roll at that date was £23, 17s. 5¼d.

The subjoined Table shows the number of Registered and of Casual Poor, and their Dependants, at 14th May, as returned to us for the past twelve years:—

Note.—On revising the Tables for the years 1875 and 1876, it has been ascertained that the total number of Paupers of all classes, including Dependants, in receipt of relief at 14th May was 102,658, and not 104,166, as stated in the Report of 1876; and that the expenditure on Registered Poor for the year ended 14th May 1875 was £629,061, 14s. 1d., and not £619,061, 14s. 1d., as stated in the Report of 1875. The necessary corrections have been made in the Tables of this Report.

Lunatics, and Orphan and Deserted Children.

The following is a Statement of the number of Lunatics and Orphan and Deserted Children relieved for the last twelve years:—

Years.	Number of Lunatics Relieved during the Year.	Number of Orphan and Deserted Children Relieved during the Year.
1866	6,457	6,912
1867	6,768	7,153
1868	6,994	7,010
1869	7,346	7,507
1870	7,608	7,663
1871	7,774	7,939
1872	7,881	7,824
1873	7,936	7,590
1874	8,208	7,342
1875	8,287	7,579
1876	8,664	7,304
1877	8,900	7,297

The number of Lunatic Poor relieved in the course of the year was, as stated above, 8900. Of these, 1640 have died, or were cured, or have ceased to receive relief; thus the number at the 14th May was 7260, being an increase, as compared with the number at the same date last year (6976), of 284. Of these, 4978 were in Asylums, 872 in licensed wards of Poorhouses, and 1410 were residing with relatives or other parties in private dwellings.

The number of Orphan and Deserted Children chargeable during the year was 7297; but the number chargeable on one day (14th May) was only 6064. Of these, 4046 were orphans, and 2018 deserted.

Poor Law. —— Education.

We have again called for Returns of the number of pauper children, and of applicants under section 69 of the Education Act, receiving Education at the cost of the Parochial Boards, and the expenditure upon these two classes respectively, and we print in the Appendix a Summary of these Returns. It appears that during the year ended 14th May 1877, 24,271 pauper children were receiving education, at a cost for the year to the Parochial Boards of £14,511, 6s. 5d.; and that 6134 children, for whom application had been made under section 69 of the Education Act, were also receiving education during the year at a cost to the Parochial Boards of £3409, 10s. 2d. It thus appears that the expenditure from the poor's funds on account of Education, exclusive of the cost of education in Industrial Schools, Deaf and Dumb Institutions, and other similar places, is £17,920, 16s. 7d. It further appears that 3865 applications were made to Parochial Boards under the 69th section of the Education Act during the year, and that of these 2607 were granted, and 980 refused. The remainder (278) had not been disposed of at the date of the Return, or had been withdrawn.

Church Collections. App. (B.) No. 12.

The whole sum derived from Church Collections in Assessed Parishes during the year ended 14th May 1877 was £31,132, 6s. 2d., of which £9458, 12s. 9d. are stated to have been expended on Relief of the Poor. Of this sum, however, £313, 11s. 8d. were handed over to the Parochial Boards, and expended by them. It would appear, therefore, that the sum of £9145, 1s. 1d., derived from Church Collections, was actually applied by the Kirk-Sessions to the relief of persons in their respective Parishes who required assistance. But these funds are generally employed to afford aid to persons who have fallen into temporary difficulties, with a view to prevent them from becoming chargeable to the Parish as paupers; and it is probable that few of the persons so assisted have also been chargeable to the funds raised by assessment.

Applications to Sheriffs. App. (B.) No. 1.

Returns of legal proceedings under the Statute in the Sheriff Courts have again been furnished to us by the courtesy of the Sheriffs-Substitute, and an Abstract of them is inserted in the Appendix.

The total number of applications to Sheriffs, on the ground that relief had been improperly refused, as returned by the Sheriffs-Substitute, was during the past year 487, while in the returns for the preceding year the number of such applications was 371. These numbers, however, fall short of the actual number of applications, as in several Sheriff Courts no complete record is kept of them. The number of such applications in which Sheriffs felt called upon to grant interim orders of relief during the past year was 338; in the preceding year it was 178. The number of applicants admitted to the Roll of Paupers by final order of the Sheriffs during the past year was 41; in the preceding year it was 33. The average annual number of such interim orders during the past ten years was 330, and of such final orders 81.

The number of prosecutions under the 79th and 80th sections of the Statute during the past year has been 116, and of convictions 66. In the previous year the number of such prosecutions was 91, and of convictions 50. The average annual number of such prosecutions during the past ten years was 107, and of convictions 58.

PUBLIC HEALTH.

Public Health. — Proceedings of Board.

We have during the past year continued to afford, from time to time, such assistance as it was in our power to give to all Local Authorities who have applied to us for advice or information regarding the execution of the Public Health Act. These applications continue to be very numerous. The Inspecting Officers of the Board have visited and reported upon the sanitary defects of as many places as their time permitted. Mr Peterkin has visited 153 districts, and reported upon those which appeared to require attention; he also made 7 special reports. Mr Campbell has visited 199 districts, reported upon 151, and made 9 special reports; and Mr M'Neill has specially visited and reported upon 21 places during the past year. Some places have been visited and reported on more than once by each of the Inspecting Officers. Our Medical Officer, Dr Littlejohn, has also visited 8 places, and made 19 special reports, where the existence of disease or other circumstances rendered his services desirable. Except when it was inexpedient to do so, we have transmitted a copy of these Officers' Reports to the Local Authority of the place reported on, and have called their attention to the defects specified. We have also received, during the past year, a large number of complaints from individuals regarding nuisances which it was alleged the Local Authorities had failed to remove. Our practice has continued to be to transmit these complaints, in the first instance, to the Local Authority for their observations, and thereafter to give such instructions as might be necessary.

During the past year we have considered applications under the Public Health Act from ten Parishes or Districts, to determine, in terms of the 5th section of the Act, the Local Authority within these places respectively. In each of these cases we nominated the body which, after inquiry, appeared to us to be most suitable.

In pursuance of the powers conferred upon us by the 8th section of the Act, we have approved of Bye-laws for regulating the duties of the Sanitary Inspector and Medical Officer in five Parishes or Districts. These Bye-laws, now adopted and approved under the Statute, were, with two exceptions, those framed by us for the guidance of Local Authorities, and referred to in our 28th Annual Report. We have also, as empowered by the 62d section, confirmed Rules and Regulations respecting Common Lodging-houses in two Parishes or Districts. As in previous years, however, we made such alterations as seemed to us to be necessary upon the Rules and Regulations which were submitted to us, and we have only sanctioned them ad interim, and under reservation of our power to require the adoption of such other alterations as further experience might from time to time render expedient.

We have sanctioned 14 appointments of members of the Police Force as Sanitary Inspectors, in terms of the Home Office letter of the 30th June 1874. In those cases where the Local Authority were not also the Police Commissioners, we have required, before giving our sanction, evidence that the proposed appointment met with the approval of the Police Commissioners or (as the case might be) of the Police Committee of the County. Public Health. Proceedings of Board.

We have approved, in terms of section 24, of sewers being laid down in one district by the Local Authority, under the provisions of that section.

We have consented in one instance, in terms of section 44 of the Act, to an alteration of the regulations for houses, or parts of houses, let in lodgings or occupied by members of more than one family; while in another case we intimated that it would not be expedient to alter, in the manner proposed, the regulations to which we had previously given consent.

As empowered by section 59 of the Act, we have approved in one case of the sum payable per night, according to which it is ascertained whether a house or part thereof is a Common Lodging-house, being raised from fourpence to sixpence.

We have been called upon to exercise our powers under the 30th section of the Act upon one occasion, by parties dissatisfied with the resolution of the Local Authority to give or refuse its consent to the establishment within burghs or villages of one of the noxious trades enumerated in that section. In accordance with our previous practice, our Inspecting Officer made a careful inquiry upon the spot into the circumstances, and thereafter we determined that the consent of the Local Authority had been properly given.

During the past year we have found it necessary to remove two Sanitary Inspectors from office.

In another case we declined to comply with the request made by the Local Authority to remove the Sanitary Inspector from office, and intimated that we did not think it likely that any person willing to be scavenger would be a fit and proper person for the office of Sanitary Inspector, the object of the request being to combine these two offices. In another case we declined to accept the resignation of the Sanitary Inspector; while in a further case, in which we were asked to sanction the discontinuance of the services of the Sanitary Inspector, in consequence of a change having been made in the Local Authority of the district, we intimated that the office having been discontinued as under the Parochial Board, that officer ceased to be Sanitary Inspector.

In terms of section 39 of the Act, during the past year we have approved of sites and plans for Hospitals to be erected by the following Local Authorities, viz.:—Site and Plans of a Common Hospital at Wishaw, for the Local Authority of the Parish of Cambusnethan; and at Inverness for the Local Authority of the Parish of Inverness; and Site for an Hospital at Bothwell. We have also sanctioned the occupation of the Hospital at Hillhead for the Burghs of Partick, Hillhead, and Maryhill.

During the past year we have received 35 applications for our recommendation of Loans from Local Authorities, the aggregate amount of these proposed Loans being £293,675. We have recommended applications for Loans amounting to £272,074. Of these, £192,779 were for the execution of Water-works; £18,375 for Sewage and Drainage Works; £52,420 for Water and Drainage Works; and Loans.

Public Health.

Proceedings of Board.

£8,500 for the erection of Hospitals. We have declined, after enquiry, to recommend the proposed Loan in two instances, the aggregate amount of these applications being £9500.

Since the date of the passing of the Public Health (Scotland) Act, 1867, Amendment Act, 1875 (11th August 1875), we have received 54 applications for our recommendation of Loans from Local Authorities. The aggregate amount of these proposed Loans is £435,990. The total amount of Loans recommended by us during the above period is £394,809. Of these, £274,619 were for the execution of Water-works; £24,170 for Sewage and Drainage Works; £52,420 for Water and Drainage Works; and £43,600 for the erection of Hospitals. We have declined in six cases to recommend the proposed Loans, the applications for which amounted to £27,900.

During the past year we have felt compelled to call upon eight Local Authorities to appoint Sanitary Inspectors in terms of section 8 of the Statute, and one Local Authority to appoint a Medical Officer in terms of the same enactment.

Small-pox.

In consequence of the prevalence of Small-pox in London and elsewhere in England in the course of the past year, we issued a Minute for the information and guidance of Local Authorities, in which we pointed out the steps of primary importance to be taken in endeavouring to check or stamp out the disease if it made its appearance in Scotland, viz.:—

(1.) The general vaccination and re-vaccination of the population, by which means the number of persons liable to be attacked will be diminished.

(2.) The removal of all apparent or probable sources of insalubrity in the district, by which means the general health of the population will be promoted.

(3 and 4.) The early discovery of the first and each subsequent attack in the district, and the immediate isolation of the first and subsequent cases, by which means the Local Authority may hope to prevent the disease being communicated to others, and becoming epidemic in the district.

App. (A.) No. 6.

Our Minute and Circular will be found in the Appendix. Although a few individual cases of Small-pox occurred in different parts of the country, we are glad to be able to state that the disease did not assume formidable proportions or an epidemic character.

Forfar Water Supply.

The Local Authority of the Burgh of Forfar having persistently failed to provide a proper supply of water for the inhabitants of that town, we were under the necessity of applying to the Court of Session, in terms of the 97th section of the Act, in order to compel the Local Authority to discharge their statutory duty. The following Interlocutor was subsequently pronounced by the First Division of the Court:—

"Edinburgh, 12th June 1877.—The Lords having considered the Note for the parties, No. 55 of Process, and heard counsel: In terms of said Note find that the respondents have hitherto failed to do what was required of them by 'The Public Health (Scotland) Act, 1867,' or otherwise by law, and that obstructions have thereby arisen in the execution of the said Act, and that the respondents are bound to take the proceedings required by Statute for introducing a supply of water sufficient and suitable for the domestic use of the inhabitants of the Burgh of Forfar, and for the sanitary and other public purposes of the said Burgh: Ordain the respondents forthwith to take and carry out according to law the proceedings necessary for carrying into effect the scheme proposed in their Minute, No. 52 of Process, and decern: Find the respondents liable to the petitioners in the expenses hitherto incurred by them; Allow the account thereof to be given in, and remit the same when lodged to the Auditor to tax and report, and quoad ultra continue the Petition. Public Health. — Proceedings of Board.

(Signed) "JOHN INGLIS, I.P.D."

We have called for Returns from all Local Authorities of their receipts and expenditure under the Act, for the year ended 14th May 1877, and we print an Abstract of these Returns in the Appendix. It appears that the number of Parishes in which money has been received or expended under the Act is 622; the number last year being 610. The total receipts in these Parishes amount to £183,655, 3s. 0d.: of which the sum of £68,635, 10s. 5d. was derived from assessment; £96, 18s. 0d. from penalties; £119, 17s. 4d. from authors of nuisances; £9444, 19s. 8d. from other sources; and £105,357, 17s. 7d. from loans on security of rates or property. The total expenditure amounts to £151,261, 15s.: of which the sum of £24,065, 14s. 11d. has been expended on drainage; £31,014, 14s. 9d. on water supply; £9306, 16s. 6d. on removal of nuisances; £31,358, 6s. on hospital accommodation; £26,649, 12s. 2d. in repayment of money borrowed; and £28,866, 10s. 8d. on other purposes. These 'other purposes' include vaccination, burials, disinfectants, salaries, and a number of other heads of miscellaneous expenditure. The sums stated above do not, however, represent the whole receipts and expenditure in Scotland in relation to sanitary purposes. In a considerable number of places, important sanitary operations have been carried on, especially for drainage, water supply, and removal of nuisances, under the provisions either of Local Police Acts or of the General Police Acts, and none of these operations are embraced in the Returns under the Public Health Act. In these cases, the penalties recovered for contraventions of the Public Health Act have also been carried to the Police Account, and do not appear in the Returns furnished to us. The total expenditure in the preceding year was £152,917, 11s. 3d. The decrease of expenditure during the past year has therefore been £1655, 16s. 3d. Receipt and Expenditure. App. (B.) No. 17.

The following Table presents a statement of the receipts and expenditure under the Public Health Act for the year ended 14th May 1877, as compared with each of the previous years since the passing of the Act, arranged under the different heads of Receipt and Expenditure; and it may be proper to explain that the excess of expenditure over the amount of receipts, which occurs in some years, arises from the fact that works have been executed with money borrowed under the Act and repayable by annual instalments out of future assessments:—

* A separate Return of Expenditure on Hospital Accommodation was called for in 1873 for the first time. It had previously been included in expenditure on 'Other purposes.'

The total expenditure under the Public Health Act, from the passing of the Act (15th August 1867) to the 14th May 1877, has amounted to £692,886: of which £100,998 have been expended upon drainage; £215,601 upon water supply; and in the last five years, £108,367 upon hospital accommodation. VACCINATION.

An Abstract of all the Modifications of the Act framed by us, in pursuance of the powers conferred by the 12th section of that Statute, and approved by the Lord Advocate, from the date of the Act down to this date, is printed in the Appendix, showing the Parishes from which the applications were made, the Modifications which were granted, and the dates at which these Modifications respectively came into operation. Vaccination. Modifications. App. (B.) No. 20.

We print in the Appendix Abstracts of Returns from all Parishes in Scotland, which have been made in compliance with our Regulations, by the Vaccinators appointed under the Vaccination Act, for the half-years ended 31st December 1876 and 30th June 1877. These returns show the number of persons vaccinated successfully and unsuccessfully during the half-year, the number of cases in which certificates of insusceptibility have been granted, and the number of persons vaccinated who were not in receipt of parochial relief. They relate exclusively to vaccinations performed by the Vaccinators in their official capacity, i.e. cases of paupers and the children of paupers, and of those persons not paupers whom the Parochial Board have authorized the Vaccinator to vaccinate; and they do not include vaccinations performed by the Vaccinators, or other medical practitioners, in the course of their private practice. Number of Persons Vaccinated. App. (B.) No. 18.

We also print in the Appendix an Abstract of Returns, made by the Inspectors of the Poor from every parish in Scotland, of defaulters under the 18th section of the Vaccination Act, as required by our Regulations, for the year ended 30th June 1877. That abstract shows the number of persons vaccinated in terms of the section referred to, the number of prosecutions for penalties under the 25th section of the Act, and the number of such prosecutions in which penalties have been adjudged. Number of Defaulters. App. (B.) No. 19.

The Registrar-General having called our attention to the fact that in the cases of children leaving a parish whose vaccination had not been certified, and whose present residence could not be discovered, the Registrar had no official authority for recording the circumstances in the Vaccination Register, we issued a Regulation, in terms of the Vaccination (Scotland) Act, 1863, requiring Inspectors of Poor, from time to time, to transmit to the Registrar certificates in a specified form regarding all such cases, in order that the proper entry may be made in the Vaccination Register. Our Regulation and relative Circular will be found in the Appendix. App. (A.) No. 7.

Supply of Vaccine Lymph. (App. A.) No. 8.

The operation of the Central Institution for the collection and distribution of Vaccine Lymph in Scotland, during the past year has continued to be entirely satisfactory. We print in the Appendix the Report for the past year by Dr Husband, Superintendent of the Institution.

DOCUMENTS ISSUED AND RECEIVED BY THE BOARD OF SUPERVISION.

POOR LAW.

No. 1.—Report by General Superintendent of the Poor, Northern (Highland) District, for the Half-year ended 31st March 1877. Poor Law.

13th April 1877.

Sir,—I reported on 3d October last that I had, during the half-year ended 30th September 1876, made 44 separate visits to parishes, for the purpose of inquiring as to the execution of the Public Health Act or the administration of the Poor Law, or for both purposes, in the counties of Caithness, Sutherland, Ross, Inverness, Nairn, Elgin, and Banff, and that I had also discharged other official duties which the Board entrusted to me. During the half-year ended 31st March, I have, for the same purposes, made 89 separate visits to parishes in the counties of Banff, Elgin, Nairn, Inverness, and Ross.

The poor rolls in all the parishes continue to be regularly revised and adjusted in terms of the statute, and lists of the poor, with relative abstracts of the parochial accounts, are very generally printed and circulated for the information of the ratepayers. Inter-parochial accounts are promptly attended to, and the books and general business of the several parishes are, as a rule, carefully and well attended to.

The population of the district in 1871 was 410,187, and the estimated rental in 1874–75 was £1,436,601. The number of registered pauper cases on 1st January 1877 was 12,464, being 352 fewer than in January 1876. The total expenditure on relief and management was last year £114,812, being £1751 more than in the preceding year; but £906 of this increased expenditure was on account of lunatic paupers,—the increase in the ordinary expenditure was therefore £845. In some parishes there was an increase of about £400 under the head of medical relief, in consequence of improved medical relief arrangements, and providing for separate and resident medical officers for each parish. One parish expended £236 in law expenses, as compared with nothing in the previous year. The average rate per pound, on the estimated gross rental of the district of 1875, of expenditure, excluding buildings, is still about one shilling and sevenpence.

Poor Law.

The following table shows the position of the several counties in the Northern District as regards pauperism on the 1st of January 1877:—

The following table gives a condensed view of the registered pauperism of the Poor Law. district, as on 1st January, for six years :—

From these figures it will be observed that there has been an annual diminution of the numbers of paupers, and that each county has contributed some decrease, comparing January 1877 with January 1876.

The total expenditure in the district for the relief and management of the poor, and for buildings, during the years ended 14th May 1875 and 1876, was as follows :—

The number of women chargeable on account of having young illegitimate children continues steadily to decrease. In January 1876 the number of such cases was 261, with 457 children; and in January 1877 the number was 217, with 368 children,—being a decrease of 44 mothers and 89 children.

The number of pauper children of all classes, who were 5 and under 14 years of age, was on 1st January 1877, 3349, and of that number 2518 were known to be in attendance at some school—that is, 75 per cent. of all pauper children between 5 and 14 years of age are at school.—I have the honour to be, Sir, your most obedient servant,

W. A. PETERKIN,
General Superintendent of Poor.

John Skelton, Esq., Secretary,
Board of Supervision, Edinburgh.

Poor Law.

No. 2.—Report by General Superintendent of the Poor, Southern (Highland) District, for the Half-year ended 31st March 1877.

Lochgilphead, 1st May 1877.

Sir,—I have the honour to report that during the six months ended the 31st March last, I made 88 visits to parishes in the counties of Aberdeen, Argyll, Forfar, Kincardine, and Perth. I have likewise visited five poorhouses, and conducted three special inquiries.

The pauperism of the district on the 1st of January 1877 is given in Table No. 1, appended hereto, and the comparison of it with that of the previous year is shown in Table No. 2. On the 1st of January 1876 there were 12,231 cases of registered paupers, and the paupers, including dependants, numbered 18,188. On the 1st of January 1877 there were 11,743 cases of registered paupers, and the paupers, with their dependants, numbered 17,412. The number of cases has thus been reduced within the year by 488, and the number of paupers, including dependants, by 776. Of these paupers, the number of single women chargeable on account of illegitimate children was, on the 1st of January 1876, 242, and on the 1st of January 1877, 205—a diminution of 37.

The paupers receiving relief in poorhouses were, on the 1st of January 1876, 908, and on the 1st of January 1877, 904.

The lunatic paupers accommodated in asylums, or in the lunatic wards of poorhouses, were, on the 1st of January 1876, 1117, and on the 1st of January 1877, 1152, being an increase of 35.

It will thus be seen that the pauperism of the district generally continues to decrease, and that the only class of paupers still on the increase is that of lunatics, who this year number 35 more than last. The ratio of pauperism to population was, on the 1st of January 1876, 1 in 31·4, and on the 1st of January 1877, 1 in 32·8. My past experience is thus most encouraging; and in pressing for the adoption of more stringent rules, I have the satisfaction of knowing that, in well-managed parishes, where these have been already adopted, discouragement of pauperism is combined with increased allowances to the proper objects of parochial relief. The management, however, in several of my parishes is still far from satisfactory, and attempts to improve it must be steadily persevered in.

To the Inspectors, generally, in the district, my acknowledgments are due for courteous attention to the suggestions which it is my duty to offer.—I have the honour to be, Sir, your most obedient servant,

ALEXANDER CAMPBELL,
General Superintendent of Poor.

The Secretary, Board of Supervision.

No. 3.—General Report by the Visiting Officer of the Board for the Half-year ended 30th June 1877.

Poor Law.

The Secretary, Board of Supervision.

Edinburgh, 2d July 1877.

Sir,—During the past half-year I have been engaged in the inspection of 33 poorhouses, 100 ordinary visits to parishes, 4 special visits by your direction, and 5 special inquiries ordered by the Board.

As has been usual since 1873, returns were called for from the Inspectors of Poor in my District as at the 1st January, and the tabulated results show at that date a further reduction of pauperism, which the following table presents clearly to the eye :— Evidence of diminishing Pauperism

Position of certain Counties.

Taking the population of 1871 as the basis of calculation, you will observe that the county of Clackmannan which last year showed the same pauperism as Selkirkshire (1 in 53 of the population) now assumes the foremost place; the first four counties in the order of merit are:—

Clackmannan	1 in 55·8
Selkirk	1 in 52·3
Forfar (21 Parishes)	1 in 51·4
Roxburgh	1 in 46.0

but the estimated increase in the population since 1871 has been so considerable that I have thought it right to ascertain my pauperism on this basis; it proves to be only 1 in 40·1 which taken in conjunction with the position attained by the four counties specially mentioned above justifies me to some extent in maintaining the opinion expressed in my last Report that 2 per cent. is a ratio of pauperism to population within reach of all well-managed groups of parishes in years of average commercial activity.

Probable cause of reduced Pauperism.

There has been little reason since 1873, either in the prosperity of the community or in the internal administration, to believe that the reduction of pauperism is mainly due to any cause other than a more discriminating use of the poorhouse test but apprehension of the cost of this corrective still deters some parishes, indeed more than one considerable district containing many parishes, from acquiring the right to apply it; a poorhouse improperly used is truly an expensive toy and even intelligently managed parishes here and there have something to learn on this point,—some inveterate prejudices to overcome; but the result of ten years experience in a population of more than 2,300,000 has been to convince me that a system of out-door relief alone is pure folly and that such a system administered under benevolent impulses not only deserves no credit but is one of the most active agents in promoting the very evils which a poor law is designed to mitigate. The following facts may not be without interest and are probably new to you:—On the 1st January 1873, 346 parishes of my district had poorhouse accommodation at command which was occupied by 6315 individuals; on the same day in 1877, 370 parishes had acquired the right to apply the test but only 6464 persons were within the walls; during the period embraced between these two dates the pauper rolls were relieved of 9058 persons almost entirely by the substitution of in-door for out-door relief. The inference seems plain enough that the test well employed is not on the whole so costly as exclusive out-door relief, while all but a few fanatics will admit the benefit to the population of the extinction of so large a mass of pauperism and imposture. To repeat what I have said above in other words, in four years a pauperism less by one-seventh has been achieved by an addition of only one forty-third to the number of poorhouse inmates though there has been an increase of one-fifteenth in the number of parishes able to use the test; a remarkable circumstance also is the decline in the number of complaints of inadequate relief in my district from 226 to 144. Poor Law.

It is as though careful administration is about to obtain a victory over imposture and as if the whole class of impostors were preparing to acquiesce in a defeat which might have been long ago inflicted. A multitude exists of charitable organizations doing more or less good—it may be feared in some cases doing also more or less harm,—but the public, as voluntary subscribers, may withhold the means of mischief whenever mischief seems to have ensued; it is otherwise with the funds raised for the relief of the poor and to them some wise words quoted and spoken at a recent Poor Law Conference in England apply with striking force:—'The first and most essential of all conditions (of relief), a principle which we find universally admitted, even by those whose practice is at variance with it, is that the condition of the pauper as a whole shall not be made really or apparently so eligible as the situation of the independent labourer of the lowest class.' Again: 'How few of us realize that we have hardly in a single particular got beyond the views which were held and boldly avowed by the clear-sighted economists of 1834 . . . .' And again: 'We must remember that we have nothing as guardians to do with the relief of the poor, or of poverty; but only with the relief of paupers and of destitution.'

How far some in Scotland are from recognising such axioms as these may be inferred from the following incident:—A chairman of an important parish in which the pauperism on the 1st January exceeded 4 per cent. of the population recently combated my suggestion that poorhouse accommodation was required and that 2 per cent. was a more reasonable ratio; though apparently a person of some education he was plainly ignorant of the whole mass of contemporary Poor Law literature and was thus unable to profit by the experience of those whose observation extends over a field of view wider than his own. But Poor Law administration is now-a-days a large subject and no chairman can hope to lead his Local Board to a satisfactory system who thus shuts his eyes to the improvements which are in progress around him. It is matter for regret that the Annual Reports of the Board of Supervision cannot now be distributed, as formerly, to these gentlemen who would then become possessed of the conclusions to which our increasing experience leads.

The utmost readiness to deceive a Parochial Board, with considerable ingenuity in deception, exist on every side:—parents become paupers and pretend ignorance of the residences of their children though all the time receiving a liberal maintenance from them and concealing from them the imposture which they are practising; wives bring lamentable stories of desertion by husbands whose absence they sanction and whose earnings they regularly receive; single women are relieved whose illegitimate children are already alimented by the fathers, in fact a proportion, variously stated at 25 to 75 per cent., of all applications for relief prove on intelligent inquiry to be deliberate attempts to outwit the Poor Law officials. Of course certain applications are so obviously frivolous as to be safely met by a refusal of relief, but all Inspectors are aware that a case must be clear indeed (properly so) to satisfy the Sheriff, and therefore where no poorhouse is available, the roll inevitably comes to include persons who though willing enough to accept out-door relief, would show elasticity of resource in presence of an in-door order. A son in America may be sending remittances, a husband may have secured lucrative employment in England, a single woman may make a considerable income by prostitution, and the Inspector may have private information of the sources of revenue in each case; but he cannot produce his informant in Court and his story is therefore mere 'hearsay.' The difficulty is immediately solved when the test is applied and the victory of the administration circulates among the neighbours of the applicant to the great advantage of the public; but how pernicious must be the converse, when a person of comfortable means is permitted to enjoy out-door aliment! perhaps no machinery could be devised more encouraging to fraud, Deceptions practised on the Administration, and means of meeting them.

Poor Law.

and more full of discouragement to self-reliant poverty than a system of unchecked legal out-door relief, for we may be sure that the circumstances of each family are better known to their neighbours than they ever become to official inquirers and that each successful deception tends to demoralize all who are cognisant of it. I may here remark, as it has been said that the power to apply the test renders Inspectors careless in their inquiries, that the very reverse is the case; in my experience and in the experience of my colleagues those Inspectors are usually the least conversant with the vital facts in the circumstances of their poor, who have no test at their disposal, for in their case there is no alternative beyond 'out-door relief' or 'refusal,'—whereas offers of in-door relief are apt to fall under the review of the Board of Supervision.

Case of Imposture,

A very curious case of imposture came recently to my knowledge which I may relate as a warning:—A man deserting his wife, was understood to have gone to America and the woman was rashly placed on the out-door roll where she remained for five years; but then, a new Inspector, with modern views, having been appointed, out-door relief was withdrawn and an offer of the poorhouse was substituted. The result was remarkable; the woman declined to enter the house and the husband returned within two months; but this is not all; the Parochial Board directed the Inspector to proceed against him when he promptly produced evidence which clearly showed that he had remitted to his wife 15s. per week from the time of his alleged desertion. The story is instructive for the husband seems to have been unaware of his wife's pauperism and the folly of the Board caused her to deceive both him and them for five years while a considerable waste of the parochial funds resulted; but few experienced Inspectors are unable to relate similar instances of deception either attempted or successful.

and of Out-door Relief improperly granted.

Another case occurs to me which it may be well that I should also narrate:—A woman chargeable to a country parish had received out-door relief for ten years and during this period had borne six illegitimate children; out-door relief in such a case was contrary to the practice of the parish of residence but the parish of settlement repeatedly declined to offer the poorhouse from apprehension of the cost of maintenance. At length however this timidity was overcome and in-door relief was offered which the pauper at once declined. The following are the sources of income in this case:—

(a.) The wages of the mother who is an excellent workwoman and is paid at the highest rates.
(b.) Payments by the fathers of the children.
(c.) A considerable revenue from prostitution.

These last earnings need startle no one who reflects that the question is not between the relative advantages of a vicious, as compared with a moral life; but between prostitution subsidised by the ratepayers and a similar condition depending on its own resources. The parish of settlement in the end adopted a course which, if earlier risked, would or might have saved the children; the fault of timid indecision was theirs but the offer of in-door relief at last transfers from them to the dissolute mother the responsibility of what may ensue.

Improvement in Administration.

Owing probably to the more general diffusion of sound principles of administration there is now less room for those startling changes in the pauperism of individual parishes which were formerly not uncommon; the treatment of applicants is now less variable and more intelligent but cases still occasionally occur in which the introduction of a resolute system produces marvellous effect. For example:—The parish of Bonhill in Dumbartonshire had in 1875 a pauperism one in 52 of its population whereas on the 1st January of the present year the ratio was only one in 79; I am assured that no hardship is known to have resulted and if this be so I submit that a far-reaching benefit has been conferred not only on the ratepayers but also on the poor themselves with whom I am more especially concerned. That hasty distributions of money whether in the form of charity, poor relief or otherwise have a directly pauperising tendency may be inferred from the position of some parishes in which charitable bequests for behoof of the poor exist; for example Caerlaverock in Dumfriesshire possesses a charitable fund said to afford a revenue of about £1000 and administered by a body independent of the Parochial Board, yet the pauperism is one in 18·2 of the population,—the highest in the county. Again Cardross in Dumbartonshire annually distributes a considerable sum but compares unfavourably with the adjoining parishes and with that portion of the county which is under my inspection; the following were the ratios of pauperism to population on the 1st January:—

Effect of some charitable bequests.

County of Dumbarton (7 parishes)	1 in 36·3	Poor Law.
Parish of Dumbarton	1 in 38·6
Parish of Bonhill	1 in 79·0
Parish of Cardross	1 in 28·5

I believe the ordinary mode of dealing with test cases to be a serious blot on our poorhouse system. The object of the Parochial Board in sending such cases to the house is clearly to present in the least palatable form the relief which is legally exigible in order to satisfy themselves of the destitution of the applicant; their argument is that no one with good food and lodging at command will voluntarily elect to starve; I must say that as far as our experience in Scotland extends the argument is a just one and many hundreds of cases have proved the imposture which exists, fostered by indiscriminate out-door relief, among the labouring population. But now let me take three typical cases from classes which well-managed parishes recognise as subjects for the test and follow them into the poorhouse in order to judge how far the object of the Parochial Board is favoured or the reverse by the treatment which they sometimes receive.

(1.) A parish withdraws out-door relief from a mother of illegitimate children and she enters the house where she proves to be strong and active; in perhaps four out of five of our houses she will then receive, in addition to the full prescribed diet (framed as sufficient for men engaged in out-door labour), a ration of tea and bread, each meal superior both in quantity and quality to anything which can be enjoyed by a labourer's family if at all numerous and even beyond the means of some in the artisan class; more than this, in some houses she will be allowed to receive and use contributions of luxuries from friends outside, she may even be permitted to quit the house on 'liberty.' Of course the test here is a mere delusion; it is efficacious no doubt in many instances but this is due more to the compulsory order and cleanliness, which we have not yet been forced to abandon, than to any other cause. Method of treating cases in some Poor-houses.

(2.) The parish has to deal with a deserted wife and wisely employs the test to determine the bona fides of her representations; the woman enters the house and in addition to every advantage which its rules or customs permit has regular meetings with her husband outside or, if he is at a distance, with persons who receive his letters for her or are in communication with him.

(3.) An old couple with a prosperous grown-up family apply to the Board and are (in the language of conventional benevolence) 'cruelly' tested; permitted to enjoy contributions of money and luxuries from their children, to receive visits from them in the house and to visit them outside they accept the offer of in-door relief and, after the first repugnance to discipline is overcome, become easily reconciled to good food, comfortable housing and little work.

Now all this seems to me mistaken; for while Parochial Boards are urged to discriminate in the form of their relief between the deserving and destitute classes on the one hand and the dissolute or lying on the other, the administration of the poorhouse so far from endeavouring, as the main duty, to supply the means of thus discriminating is occupied with matters in which the Parochial Board has no concern and to attain those objects offers direct inducements to persons whom the Parochial Board would repel; in fact what the Parochial Board seeks or should seek to do through its Relief Committee, that the same Board seeks to undo through its House Committee. A more healthy and reasonable system would be one in which the House Committee should devote themselves to attain primarily the objects of the Parochial Board; thus in the first example which I have taken above there should be no allowances in excess of the prescribed diet which as I have already said, is ample, no luxuries or 'liberty' should be permitted and no visitors other than near relatives should be received; work in proportion to strength should be exacted in return for maintenance and becoming behaviour should be secured if necessary by the infliction of punishment.

In the second case extra diet (if granted at all) should be made conditional on exemplary conduct but a careful watch should be kept on correspondence passing between the pauper and friends outside; no liberty whatever should be granted because if the desertion be, as in the great majority of cases it is simulated, a few weeks or at most months will disclose the imposture.

In the third case it is imperatively necessary, at least in the earlier months, to restrict the extra diet to such small additions as may be granted in reward for good conduct or diligence by the officials and to prevent supplies reaching the pauper from his family, otherwise they will not regard his position as one of hardship and he himself will at last come to think their obligations to him discharged by Poor Law. occasional visits with small presents of money and luxuries. What the Parochial Board desires is that the children should support the parent, take him into their houses and relieve the public altogether of his maintenance, it is therefore important to place him under such discipline as shall stimulate his wish to become independent of the parish and to continue this course of treatment till the termination of the proceedings which of course should at once be taken against those liable for his support. Many a satisfactory family arrangement has resulted in recent years from the combined effect of a test, however imperfect, applied to the parent and threats of legal proceedings applied to the children; such arrangements might be indefinitely multiplied if our administration were less liable to disturbance through the impulses of sincere but short-sighted and unintelligent benevolence.—I have the honour to be, Sir, your obedient servant,

Visiting Officer.

No. 4.—Letters and Minute respecting the Case of Mary Kelly and Children.

Kirkcowan Parochial Board,
9th July 1877.

Case of Mary Kelly and Four Children.

Sir,—The above named poor person was reported to me on the 26th June last as sleeping out in the fields at night, and I at once placed her and her children in a place of shelter, and allowed them since that period 5s. weekly of an aliment, and pay 2s. per week for their lodgings. I also on same date sent statutory notice to inspector of poor for Mochrum, in which parish she has a birth settlement, not having acquired one elsewhere by residence, and on the 28th he visited her in her lodgings, and in my presence made offer of the poorhouse to herself and children; but she refused to accept of his offer, nor yet would she allow the children to be sent there, as she had only about six weeks previous removed the three youngest children from the poorhouse in (as she stated) a starving condition.

As I have had a vast amount of trouble with this case in former years, I at once brought the case before the Procurator-Fiscal, so that he might consult Crown Counsel in the matter, and let me know where my responsibility ended.

If I stop out-door relief, she and her children are at once cast out of doors to again sleep in the fields; and the Fiscal informs me that should anything befal her or her children through exposure, I would be held responsible in the eye of the law, and would be subject to prosecution.

What am I to do in the matter, and how keep myself right with the legal authorities?

My Board, at a meeting held this day, had the whole case under their consideration, and instructed me to ask for advice from the Superior Board; and as the case is urgent, I will be obliged by your answer on as early a day as possible.

I may state that as far as I can learn, she is again within a month of being confined with her fifth illegitimate child, so that she is clearly a proper subject for poorhouse treatment.

I enclose herewith letter received from our Procurator-Fiscal with decision of Crown Counsel.

What I wish to know is this:—Kelly being a proper object of parochial relief, and having a settlement in Mochrum, which is admitted by that parish, who offers the poorhouse, but is declined by Kelly, nor will she allow her children to be sent there, am I bound to relieve them while in my parish after such an offer has been made, or would Mochrum not be justified in refusing to repay my advances after date of offer to poorhouse? and am I liable to prosecution should anything happen Kelly or her children through exposure at night while she remains in this parish, which she means to do?

Yours early will oblige.

Case of Mary Kelly.

Dear Sir,—I submitted your letter of 28th ulto. to Crown Counsel, who desire me to say that as there is no criminal charge against Kelly, the proper course for you is to apply to the Board of Supervision for advice.—I am, &c.,

(Signed) Ebenezer S. Black, P.F.

Kirkcowan.

Copy Minute of Board of Supervision, 12*th July* 1877.

Kirkcowan.

A letter from the inspector, dated 9th July, requesting advice of the Board as to extent of his responsibility in the case of Mary Kelly, who refuses to go to the poorhouse with her children, was submitted. The Board find difficulty in giving advice in this case, in consequence of there being no statutory power given in regard to such a matter; but upon the whole, they advise the inspector as follows:—

1*st.* The parish of Mochrum having offered to take the pauper, and afford relief to her and her dependant children in the poorhouse, that parish will be freed from liability for any aliment afforded by Kirkcowan. Any advances, therefore, made by Kirkcowan to the pauper cannot be recovered from Mochrum, unless the pauper should become incapable of removal.

2*d.* The Board, without professing to state what may be the law upon the subject, must express their opinion that the inspector, having offered relief in the poorhouse to the pauper, incurs no criminal responsibility if she perversely refuses to accept the legal relief of the poorhouse offered to her, and chooses to go out and lie in the fields.

3*d.* As regards the children, the advice which the Board gives the inspector is, to endeavour to get them away from their mother, and carry them to the poorhouse, if he can do so quietly and peaceably.

4*th.* If this cannot be done, the Board would recommend the inspector to apply to the Sheriff by petition for a warrant to take them to the poorhouse, on the ground that their lives were endangered by being left with their mother in the fields. There can be no doubt of the authority of the Supreme Court to grant such a warrant; but the Board are unwilling to recommend such an application, which would be somewhat expensive. They think that in the circumstances the Sheriff would in such an emergency grant such a warrant, and they think that such a petition ought to be presented to the Sheriff.

No. 5.—Letter showing result of Cases in which Relief in the Poorhouse was Offered.

West Linton, 19th July 1877.

Sir,—I have yours of yesterday to hand, and have to inform you that the result of the action taken by the Parochial Board in the cases referred to in Mr M'Neill's report, dated 9th February, stands as follows:—

1*st.* Female struck off roll and offered poorhouse, but declined, and has since been supporting herself and family by her own industry.

2*d.* Female struck off roll or offered poorhouse, but declined, and has since been maintaining herself and illegitimate family by her own exertions, with the aid of her eldest son, 18 years of age.

3*d.* Female offered relief in poorhouse, but declined, and has since been partly maintained by her two grown-up sons, and partly by her own exertions.

4*th.* Male offered relief in poorhouse, but declined; and being wholly unable for work, has since been maintained by one of his sons, with whom he lives.

Poor Law.

5th. Female offered relief in poorhouse, but declined, and has since been supported by her own exertions.

6th. Female offered poorhouse, but declined, and has been supporting herself by her own exertions, with the help of her family, now all grown up.

The number of poor on the roll is at this date only 27, as compared with 38 in the month of February last, caused by deaths and the application of the poorhouse test. You will see from the above statement that not one of the paupers offered relief in poorhouse accepted it.—I am, your obedient servant,

No. 6.—Circular and Minute on the subject of Small-pox.

Small-pox.

Board of Supervision,
Edinburgh, 9th December 1876.

Sir,—I am directed by the Board of Supervision to transmit, for the information and guidance of the Local Authority, the enclosed copies of a Minute passed by the Board on the 7th instant upon the subject of Small-pox.

You will submit this communication without delay to the Local Authority or its Committee.—I am, Sir, your obedient servant,

JOHN SKELTON, Secretary.

PUBLIC HEALTH ACT.

Small-pox.

Minute of the Board of Supervision, 7th December 1876.

Small-pox having recently re-appeared in London and in a considerable number of other places in England, and the cases being already so numerous that the disease threatens to become epidemic and to spread still further, the Board think it expedient to direct the special and immediate attention of Local Authorities to the powers and duties entrusted to them by the Public Health Act, by means of which the disease may be mitigated and checked when it occurs in Scotland.

It may be assumed that Small-pox is almost certain to be imported from England into Scotland, unless it speedily dies out in the former country. The constant inter-communication between the two countries subjects each of them to the influence of any infectious or contagious disease prevailing in either. When it is known, then, that a deadly disorder like Small-pox appears to be taking a serious hold of several centres of population in England, common prudence and foresight require the Local Authorities of Scotland to be prepared for its probable introduction.

There are four precautionary and preventive measures to which every Local Authority should at once direct their attention.

I. Vaccination and Re-vaccination.

By the 57th Section of the Public Health Act, the Local Authority are authorized to defray the cost of vaccinating all such persons as to them may seem expedient, other than paupers, or the children of paupers, or defaulters under Section 18 of the Vaccination Act. The obligation to vaccinate paupers, children of paupers, and defaulters, rests upon the Parochial Board; but that Board cannot legally defray out of the poor-rates the cost of vaccinating any other persons. The Local Authority, under the Public Health Act, however, are empowered to defray, out of the assessment levied in terms of that Act, the cost of vaccinating all persons, except those whom the Parochial Board are bound to vaccinate, to whom it may seem expedient to the Local Authority to apply the provisions of the enactment referred to. Public Health.

Existing circumstances render it very advisable that the Local Authority should lose no time in ascertaining whether, in the district within their jurisdiction, there are persons who are either unvaccinated or imperfectly protected by vaccination, and in whose cases the provisions of the 57th Section of the Act should be acted upon.

Dr Husband, the Superintendent of the Central Vaccine Institution for Scotland, made the following suggestions in 1871, in which the Board concur:—

'1. In the first place, that every one should make sure that he is not mistaken in supposing himself to have been well vaccinated in infancy.

'2. That the unvaccinated should be searched for, especially among the unsettled and migratory portion of the population, among whom chiefly the disease is likely to appear in the first instance.

'3. That those who desire absolute security should get themselves re-vaccinated.

'4. That infants should be vaccinated a few weeks, or even months, earlier than usual.'

In order to effect these objects, it will be necessary for the Local Authorities to employ the Medical Officers and other Medical Practitioners in their districts to make the requisite inquiries by house-to-house visitation, to perform such vaccinations or re-vaccinations as may be expedient, and to keep a record of the persons so vaccinated or re-vaccinated. Medical students and other suitable persons should be employed for the above purposes where the number of the population is too large to be overtaken by the regular Medical Staff. The utmost publicity should be given to the fact of opportunities being afforded for gratuitous vaccination and re-vaccination in the district, personal endeavours should be made to induce those who are either unvaccinated or are imperfectly protected by vaccination to permit the operation to be performed, and every member of the Local Authority should use his individual influence to promote so desirable an end as the general protection of the population from attacks of Small-pox.

Supplies of vaccine lymph may be obtained at 6d. per tube by applying to Dr Husband, Central Vaccine Institution for Scotland, 28 Clarence Street, Edinburgh.

II. Removal of Nuisances.

The Local Authority should at once cause a special survey to be made within their district with a view to the detection and removal of all nuisances and insanitary agents, whether as regards drainage, water supply, streets, closes, dwelling-houses, or accumulations of offensive matter. Disinfectants and lime-washing should be freely resorted to where found requisite.

III. Notice of Cases.

All the Medical Practitioners in the district should be urgently requested to furnish the Local Authority with immediate information as to any cases of Small-pox or suspected Small-pox occurring in their practice. A reasonable fee should be allowed for information so furnished.

IV. Hospitals and Isolation of the Sick.

Every Local Authority not already provided with a Contagious and Infectious Disease Hospital should at once make arrangements by which suitable accommodation would be obtainable at a moment's notice for the isolation and separate treatment of the first case or cases of Small-pox that may appear. Arrangements should also be made by which the Medical Officer would have it in his power to remove from the room or house occupied by a sick person all others not in attendance upon him. The complete isolation of the sick should not be confined to the actual period of illness, but should be as rigorously maintained during convalescence.

The above are the points of primary importance requiring the attention of Local Authorities in their endeavours to check or stamp out the disease when it makes its appearance. These are—

(1.) The general vaccination and re-vaccination of the population, by which means the number of persons liable to be attacked will be diminished.

(2.) The removal of all apparent or probable sources of insalubrity in the district, by which means the general health of the population will be promoted.

Public Health.

(3 and 4.) The early discovery of the first and each subsequent attack in the district, and the immediate isolation of the first and subsequent cases, by which means the Local Authority may hope to prevent the disease being communicated to others, and becoming epidemic in the district.

These measures, however, will be of little avail if they are only resorted to when the disease has actually appeared. If the Local Authority are not prepared beforehand, they will then have to encounter panic, confusion, and the impossibility of effecting immediate isolation. The only true hope of safety lies in their being fully prepared, and in being able so to act, when the first case of the disease occurs, that it may not be disseminated throughout the population.

No. 8.—Report of Superintendent of Central Vaccine Institution for Scotland, 1876-77.

Vaccination.

Central Vaccine Institution for Scotland, 28 Clarence Street, Edinburgh, 27th September 1877.

Sir,—I have the honour to submit to you my report for the year ended 31st July last.

The prevalence of small-pox in England towards the end of the year 1876 led to the apprehension that we were about to have a recurrence of it in an epidemic form in Scotland; and the circular issued by the Board of Supervision in December, calling the attention of Local Boards to the subject, gave rise to a considerable demand from Local Authorities for lymph for re-vaccination purposes.

Beneficial results have no doubt followed; and there is reason to believe that in some districts where cases of small-pox occurred, the disease was prevented from spreading, while in others the measures adopted had the effect of protecting, in some degree, against the epidemic, which, however, we may count upon as still impending.

It is much to be desired that the facilities now afforded for general re-vaccination were more taken advantage of in the meantime than they are.

The number of charged tubes required for distribution has been considerably in excess of last year, as the following table will show:—

	1875-76.	1876-77.
Number of tubes remaining at 1st August . .	543	101
Number received during the year . . .	2563	3920
Total available for distribution . .	3106	4021
Total number distributed—
To Vaccinators of Parishes . . .	2718	2539

To Local Boards	0	362
Total number distributed . .	3005	3418
Number of tubes remaining at 1st August . .	101	603
The number of applications for lymph was as follows:—
From Vaccinators of Parishes . . .	468	473
From other Practitioners . . .	62	82

—I have the honour to be, Sir, your most obedient servant,

WILLIAM HUSBAND, M.D., Superintendent.

John Skelton, Esq.,
Secretary to the Board of Supervision.
